Obviously, you know what I mean when I am talking to you. It's real obvious that you're not as educated as you would like to be when we see your spelling mistakes by the millions over the years. Garbageman Roger

If I had a buck
A lottery ticket I would buy
But I have no luck
And that's no lie
Everything goes against my grain
For me nothing works Life is just a drain Behind every door sorrow lurks
Another day and more doom
A planet of jerks
Bring plenty of gloom
My world is grey
Life is a heavy stone to carry
If I believed in God I would pray
But then I might as well believe in the Tooth Fairy

If one person continues to listen to his program, then it's an interest to someone in the amateur radio service. There is no real specification on how many people are require to listen to an information bulletin to deem it "an interest to the amateur radio service" and the courts would tell youhe samething. If even one person listens to it, it's an interest to someone in the service.

Echolink at all. Do you want a QSL card?

That's no lie. You name or call comes up fairly often. I even receive

"Obssesed"? Wowsers, you made another mistake! I'm not lying and as > wrote that no lettrer was sent. Now you change your story.

"Lettrer"? There's another mistake. When no letter had been received or revealed, I so stated. When a letter appeared and we were made aware of it, I said so. I just brought the issue up, UnWiseman.

"He"? Are you still pretending to be any one of several people, with killfiling? "Recevied"? You're starting to write like Mark Morgan.

Now you've made an error in using the correct tense. Try "do" rather than "does". My wife's employer certainly knows what we do. She works and I drive her to and from her job. My wife rang your doorbell on one occasion. You didn't appear and didn't say a word. My wife's employer also knows the reason for the visit. I have a CD full of your posts to me and others, in which you post as KC8JBO, AB8MQ and a boatload of others.

Why not write or call them and find out. There's not a thing you can do to jeopardize my wife's employment. There are a number of things you can do to jeopardize yourself, you defective piece of filth.

property. You need to check your facts.

Try it out. See how it plays out.

When you try it out, you'll find out if I've lied to you. You probably don't think that CD full of your material, complete with headers, has been delivered to the Marshall County Sheriff's Office or that it has been seen by the prosecutor. You seem to believe that you can stalk people and then paint yourself as a victim when they react. That dog won't hunt.

> Then, I wonder what the District Manager > would do when he found out about it if the store manager didn't fire

Your effort falls short. It should be: "Then I wonder what the District Manager would do when he found out about it, if the store manager didn't fire your works-for-commission-only wife".

Even at that, your sentence structure is really weak. Additionally, my wife doesn't work only for commission, demented one. As far as the scene you've drawn up in your pointy little head, why not follow through and see what happens. I've never heard of anyone getting fired for ringing a doorbell. Maybe you've come up with some interesting and little known case law. Make the project your life's work.

Now about those charges. I've heard not a word by telephone or the mail. Don't you think that's odd?

What I wrote is quite accurate. You seem to think that you're a very smart fellow. The only trouble is, you leave yourself wide open. You leave tracks. You don't imagine that others are comparing notes about your activities. You don't believe that others do the things they say they are going to do. You don't believe that law enforcement has the slightest interest in you.

You continue to underestimate people.

I'll tell you what, UnWiseman, you aren't half as sharp as you think you are.

Retardese? That's my word, but the irony of it is it's over your head. As far as lying, it's not my style and what you think of me is of no importance as you are a retard.

You, Not Roger, can thank your lucky stars that abortion was illegal in September of 1955. If it were, you can bet your arse that someone would have stuffed a coat hanger up your Momma's birth canal and saved your momma lots of misery.
As it is, Woger, your birth momma gave you up for adoption anyway and she tossed you out like the garbage you are. Back in the fifties they didn't have dumpsters like we do now or you would have ended up under a pile of rancid rags.

And how many warning letters has that FT-920 gotten you? Riley sure knows you well. You and Riley are on a first name basis, after all. You are one of his favorite miscreants.
Oh, wait. You claim that Riley can randomly call for a retest of VEC licensees on a whim. You claim to be one of those who did nothing wrong and that you actually upgraded. Yes, well and good, but the fact IS that Riley cornered you because of your nasty activities on 20M. Your malicious jamming is a matter of fact. Not allegations as you proclaim, but a matter of fact.

Calm down, Wogie. Take your Valium and the other psychoactive drugs your doctor has prescribed, cut your four dialup connections in half, and do, please, make an effort to stop seeing Lloyd everywhere you turn. You really, really, do need professional help for your mental afflictions.

There is something seriously wrong with you, Woger. You need help.

You pull your mom out of the chest freezer in your back room. You know the one with the flip open top that you crawl in so you can make love to her.

You must, you posted about it, retqard.

"Retgard"?

Is that similar to your other misuses of common spelling?
You should be "ashamred."

"exaggerate" Good one.

"eteranl" As in forever?

"ionly" Ions? Lonely? Who knows?

"expossed" Still no spell check.

"workibg" As in working?

"assulted" Darned typos!

"Georgaphy." Georgia on his mind?

"remibndded" It is hard to talk with your mouth full.

"corrpuption" Is that a dog?

"molsetred" Only 2Test knows.

"Whinyng". What?

"Plagairizing". Geesh

"emnpty" The inside of Roger's head.

"rloer" Not sure what Roger means here.

"lilusp" Woger meant to thay lithp.

"poat" Post?

"publich" Public?

"ashamerd"

"agasin". Play it agasin, Sam.

"woamn"

"doens't" Dagnabbit, Timmy.

"hyurt"

"chcienshit" You figure this one out.

"imginary" Hey, Rog. Another typo?

"asck" Sack or ask?

"Ultimte" Hooked on Phonics?

"greade" First or Second?

"attentiopn" Hooked on phonics, are we?

"copuple" Damn. Lloyd moved my keys around again.

"licvense" What Riley makes you retest for.

"havfe" Half? Halve? Have? Who knows.

"Baout" Bout? About?

"unsubstantiateed" It gets better.

"pompousity" Oops! Darn that keyboard, anyway!

"suergery" That is Devry for ya.

"aditting" Darn those typos!

"abckpedals" His greasy hair got in his eyes again

"shreeched" Wasn't he the guy in a sit com? Screech?

"stuid" Pot calling the kettle black?

"heared" That's West Virginia for heard.

"assuslted" Rog just makes em' up as he goes along.

"experieince" Oh, DUH!

"abouve" Is this a French word?

"Cosast" Some place by a body of water?

"mebership", Just a typo, right?

"retqards" Regards or Retards? Who can tell?

"coordinbator" Huh?

"Realy" Really?

"Nitoiced" Keyboard error or stupidity?

Becasue

Convienince

Myabe

"occurance" Say what?

"srtuggling"

"definatrely"

"delapidated" What a dufus.

"picutre"

"permenatly" Ebonics again?

"Arest" You need a rest, Wogie.

"Sentenceing" No comment.

"Narcotices" What?

"Undre" Is this a city in Germany?

"Surgeoun" And this would be?

"Commuications" Who is laughing at who?

"Ovre" Ovre and out!

"Wondreful" It's a "wondreful" day in the neighborhood?

"Derivitave" Still no spell-checker, eh?

"You lose, shit for brians." Woger showing who real loser is.

"Deisowned" Deis what?

"Deeppest" Roger strikes again.

"Dodgeing". Is he talking about a car?

"Staedy" Steady?

"Linme" Transmission line?

"Getr" Nobody knows.

"Experieince" Wogie is good, ain't he?

"Appropiate" What kind of opiate?

"Laywer" Lay what?

"Visitpors" You never have any, ergo you don't know how to spell it.

"It's "complaintant," you sniveling weasel." (Roger Wiseman on spelling complainant.)

"Irreevant" Good going, Wogie.

"Forwared" Forward HO!

"Glady" Glad Bags?

"Neighborhod" It's a wonderful day in Wogie's neighborhood.

"Mena" Mean? What you mean, Wogie?

"Notr" Not?

"Sassifyed" ALA Rolling Stones.No Sassifaction..

"Fantasises" That is "fantasizes", Wussman.

"Illarate" West BY GOD Virginny!

"Reveresed" Must be one of those off-brand keyboards.

"Soem".as in Some? What a loser.

"VIRIN".What Wogie was before he met the Lavender Lads.

"Minisule".he mussa meant miniscule. Like his IQ.

"Champoin".Whassup, Wiseman? No dictionaries in the mental ward?

"Anoinymous"...a cross between anonymous and annoying?

"Acident" Roger's mom got preggers by accident.

"Alreaedy" Alright, already!

"Amouints" Roger amounts to nothing.

"Aposterphe" This guy is a hoot, ain't he?

"Basios"...word Woger uses when he gets neeeerrrrvous.
"Behing"...a cross between being and behind?

"Coiward" As in peeking from behind his mommy's curtains.
"Feamle"...I think he meant female.
"Losser"...only loser Roger can do it better.
"Ignroant"...typical, considering the source.
"Sluprs"...only Rogie knows what this means.
"Travelled"...a Rogerism, replete with ignorance.
"Postss"...pssst...Roger..that should be Posts.
"Defgenerate"...well, it's Roger's word...
"Faity"...he meant to say Fairy, but you know Roger.

"Ghet" Get a load of Curtain Boy!
"Distribiution"...Roger likes using phonics.
"Biotch"...he meant Bitch, but his phonics took over again.
"Methjadone"...a West Virginia substitute for Heroin.

"Sumbliminal"...one of Roger's favorites.
"Recepticle"...either of Roger's moist cavaties.
"Cociane"...a West Virginia drug of choice?
"Tiome"...Roger meant to say Time...but his fingers were numb.
"Beraking"...no definition. Could mean 'beraking' the leaves,
"Amny"...he meant 'any',
"Nlay"...a town in Maylaysia? Vermont?
"Al;ong"...only Wussman knows what this means.
"Becasu"...well, becasu Roger is not the brightest bulb on the tree.
"Seperation". Why? Because Roger cannot "seperate" from his mommie!
"Sisnce" He meant Since, but his pudgy little fingers slipped off the keys.
"gnetically" What?
"provce" (prove?)
"Piuzza" (West Virginia Pizza)
"Schol" (school?)
"strill" (still?)
"shoitgun" 12 ga or 20 ga?
"Snoip" (How they spell "snip" in Glen Dale)
"Maturbater". Wiseman does it all the time, he just can't spell it.(leaves a sticky residue on his right hand)
"Coskscuking". It's a Roger thing, as in Lavender Lads.
"Waddleing". Only in Glen Dale, eh?
"Spaeaking". Curtain Boy did this after his second retest.

" Stgop" Roger's version of Stop.

"Fahter's" He meant Father's Day.

"fserting"..would that be festering?

"poists". Roger meant "posts".

"snadwich" As in peanut butter and jelly?

"regualr" Glen Dale rendition of "regular".

"aftrer" After? Aftrer what?

"soory". Sorry Roger fucks up again.

"didnb't" He didn't?

"whoile". He ate the whoile thing?

"Woamn" He's hooked on West Virginia phonics, all right.

"prrof" And he kin prove it, too.

"beforfe" Was that before he lurned to spell?

"yoiuy" Roger's version of "y'all".

"illerate" Only illiterate Roger can spell like this.

"haeart" Aw, how heartless of me to laugh!

"valule" Roger has no values. No wonder he can't spell it.

"proch" Doesn't everyone have one on their house?

"inmstitution" Where Roger's mom put him in June 1999.

"timne" It's Howdy Doody time?

"whgo" What? Who dat?

"gnetically" Only Roger knows what this one means.

"crfy" Like, cry, Roger, cry.

"stutrtering" Some stutter, Wiseman stutrters.

"Whjere" Where is Curtain Boy?

"Webiste" That's Website to the rest of us.

"Youire" Your? You're? Who knows.

"fiored" As in fired?

"Parety" Roger gave a party once. Nobody came.

"Bouynce" Bounce?

"Varification" Verifiable mental case.

"Probelms" Poor Rogie.has many problems of the mental sort.

"Partricipate" Oh, DUH!!!!

"Cryed" Gee, Wogie..cry me a river.you dolt!

"Stoick" What a dork. His old 386 has no spell check program.

"Partiall" More WV Phonics, I see.

"Obsucred" Either obscured or Rogie has "sucre" on his mind.

"Infinate" Stupid. Think finite, Rogie.

"Sustinance" As in Sustenance?

"Juvinile". This is the way Roger likes his boys.

"Piut" Put it where, Rogie?

"Toyus". "Toyus R Us?

"Diminuative". Roger's height.

"Definitely" Definitely

"Percriptions" Say what?

"Credibiliy" More Glen Dale intellect.

"Thsoe" Yet another Glen Dale gaffe.

Of course it is no secret who the bogus antagonist is, but we won't mention names such as Wogie Wussman at this part of the game. We all know who Wogie is and we all know he posts from West Virginia.

Dave: Continue your honest comments, please. Wogie will continue hiding behind his drawn drapes as he has been doing for years and years. Woger is a coward.

I'm not Todd but you seem to have an unhealthy obsession with him. I must think that you are a tad bit queer since you obsess over him. It sounds to me that you're pissed because the refused your gay advances. Nice try again Weissman or is it Wussman. Do you prefer the Jewish version of your name which you hide or the Americanized version. Noticeably, the Tampa area in which you lived had a pretty sizeable Jewish population. Funny how you condemn them.

Wasn't an order. You are one that stated you consumed beer in a perverted manner. I merely figured you already had the hose in place, as evidenced by your drunken ramblings. What's another six pack in the hot water bottle?

2025. Mississippi declares war on Dildoes (ham related)

When Dildos Are Outlawed, Only Outlaws Will Have Fun

Here's to the State of Mississippi!
The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has today upheld Mississippi's sacred right to ban the sale of adult sex toys. A Hinds County judge ruled in 2003 that state law does not extend the right to privacy to the commercial sale of sexual devices.

The Mississippi high court said there is no fundamental right of access to buy sexual devices.

The justices said while a federal court had found a similar Alabama law was unconstitutional, other courts including ones in Georgia, Louisiana and Texas have rejected attempts to expand the right to privacy to include the commercial sale of sex toys. (Clarion Ledger)

Well, what can you buy in Mississippi? For starters, as many handguns as you want. Ditto assault rifles. The guns don't have to be ballistic fingerprinted before sale. You are allowed to carry concealed weapons. Guns can be sold without child locking devices and no background checks are required at gun shows. Etc., etc. (Brady Campaign)

In other words, the Mississippi Attorney General has banned dildos and vibrators but doesn't give a crap about unlicensed straw sales of handguns.

Phil Ochs would probably have a pithy new verse for his classic, "Here's to the State of Mississippi," but Phil's gone now so we'll just have to make do with one he wrote when he was here:

"...and here's to the laws of Mississippi
Congressmen will gather in a circus of delay
While the Constitution is drowning in an ocean of decay
Unwed mothers should be sterilized, I've even heard them say
Yes, corruption can be classic in the Mississippi way
Oh, here's to the land you've torn out the heart of Mississippi find yourself another country to be part of" ps: Please, spare me the wind that this post has nothing to do with ham radio. Why just yesterday I heard someone we all know and love on 14.275 say that he was starting a new product line of rubber-duckie antennas for HT's that are shaped like a male appendage. I think he said he'd called it " The 14.313 RF Burner "........

2032. The Israeli Lobby FINALLY EXPOSED.

The Israeli Lobby - EXPOSED !!

March 17, 2006 -Two college professors, one from Harvard and one from the University of Chicago, put in the time and effort to create a report about the Israeli lobby in America which is something that I have wanted to do for quite some time. But theirs is everything I could've hoped for and more.
It is VERY well-documented, well-written, and it explains just about everything (oddly, there's nothing about the USS Liberty in it) that I have tried to explain

Iraq, Palestine, Neoconservatives - how all of it ties together can be found in this report entitled "The Israel Lobby and U.S. Foreign Policy". A condensed version can be found here at the London Review of Books.

http://www.lrb.co.uk/v28/n06/print/mear01_.html

And the full PDF file of this study can be found here on the Harvard University Press

http://ksgnotes1.harvard.edu/Research/wpaper.nsf/rwp/RWP06-011/$File/rwp_06_011_walt.pdf

This is something that every American citizen should read.
And this is no conspiracy theory. If you only knew how much I wish that it was all just one big conspiracy theory.

The Israeli lobby counts on your ignorance

These are the people who wield the most influence over our government's foreign policy in the Middle East.
And it's because YOU, ME and the rest of the American public have refused to stand up and be counted.
The Israeli lobby has filled this void because they know that you are not paying attention. They also know that you, being good complacent American sheep, are not likely to go rooting around for the answers to this entire ME puzzle. This lobby counts on your ignorance.
AND IT HAS COST US DEARLY, and it likely WILL AGAIN. Now, nobody's expecting you to don a kaffiyeh and sing allah's praises, or join hands in a rendition of Kumbaya. But for chrissakes people, 'SNAP OUT OF IT!' (Olympia Dukakis to Cher, 'Moonstruck'). This next (neocon) war (Iran), may be the deadliest and costliest yet.

What do you suppose George Washington would do if he were alive today? Would he not raise his voice, would he not STAND UP FOR JUSTICE?

"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math

and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Billy "shoots" himself in his palsied club foot once again in Message-ID: <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right." in <hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:

"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:

"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>

"Sure I can spell and smell."

"Billy" the NOtwordSmith fucks up again with this incompete sentence in <qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:

"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your
so called educatiion actually doing for you? Those online classes."

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

I leave the rec.cb group for a well-deserved round of fishing for muddies, crappies and catfish and I see that Nad, Dogie, et al and the usual gang of intellectually challenged short bus riders are lofting their abuse of the NG to new heights. These boll weevils have infested our little joyfully lawless kingdom for a number of years now and I for one am finding it difficult to believe we can do nothing about it. Why should Lelnad disrupt the free give and take of this forum with his legal brain farts and half-baked allegations? Why should dogie ride roughshod over advanced CBers who just happen to be using frequencies not enforced and mistakenly not assigned for our use? It's enough to make a poke-heded ole Southerner like me spit in the rain barrel and snap his lavender suspender belt with aggravation. Here is what I suggest: post here all the reasons why blathering about legal CB should be outlawed in this NG and I will forward it to my literary contacts who hold me in high esteem. There is a chance I can use my status as a self-styled journalist to influence Usenet to ban all disagreement with us and our way of operating from this NG. So go ahead, tell it to Twistedhed. I promise I will use my famed methods of flim-flammery and nakedly transparent obfustcation to run a corncob up the collective rear ends of the Kennel Club.

even according to the CDC

the CDC does not say I have aids if can show me where they say I do tell you what I'll give 10 percent of the settlement I recieve from their slander/libel and violating my civil rights and we can both retire

I don't have AIDS no offical would ever say I do, indeed even if I had AIDS no one would tell you about it

one you are responding to a forgery 2 the man most respoble for running the gruop is Robeson, that what has run the gruop down

Wismen seems to have been here before I first happned on the NG and was here while I was gone but theconsitiant down force has been Robeson now he fed the maggots enough that they sustain themselves

§ 1466A. Obscene visual representations of the sexual abuse of children

Release date: 2005-08-03

(a) In General.- Any person who, in a circumstance described in subsection (d), knowingly produces, distributes, receives, or possesses with intent to distribute, a visual depiction of any kind, including a drawing, cartoon, sculpture, or painting, that-
(1)
(A) depicts a minor engaging in sexually explicit conduct; and
(B) is obscene; or
(A) depicts an image that is, or appears to be, of a minor engaging in graphic bestiality, sadistic or masochistic abuse, or sexual intercourse, including genital-genital, oral-genital, anal-genital, or oral-anal, whether between persons of the same or opposite sex; and
(B) lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value;
or attempts or conspires to do so, shall be subject to the penalties provided in section 2252A (b)(1), including the penalties provided for cases involving a prior conviction.
(b) Additional Offenses.- Any person who, in a circumstance described in subsection (d), knowingly possesses a visual depiction of any kind, including a drawing, cartoon, sculpture, or painting, that-

(A) depicts a minor engaging in sexually explicit conduct; and
(B) is obscene; or
(A) depicts an image that is, or appears to be, of a minor engaging in graphic bestiality, sadistic or masochistic abuse, or sexual intercourse, including genital-genital, oral-genital, anal-genital, or oral-anal, whether between persons of the same or opposite sex; and
(B) lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value;
or attempts or conspires to do so, shall be subject to the penalties provided in section 2252A (b)(2), including the penalties provided for cases involving a prior conviction.
(c) Nonrequired Element of Offense.- It is not a required element of any offense under this section that the minor depicted actually exist.
(d) Circumstances.- The circumstance referred to in subsections (a) and (b) is that-

(1) any communication involved in or made in furtherance of the offense is communicated or transported by the mail, or in interstate or foreign commerce by any means, including by computer, or any means or instrumentality of interstate or foreign commerce is otherwise used in committing or in furtherance of the commission of the offense;
(2) any communication involved in or made in furtherance of the offense contemplates the transmission or transportation of a visual depiction by the mail, or in interstate or foreign commerce by any means, including by computer;
(3) any person travels or is transported in interstate or foreign commerce in the course of the commission or in furtherance of the commission of the offense;
(4) any visual depiction involved in the offense has been mailed, or has been shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce by any means, including by computer, or was produced using materials that have been mailed, or that have been shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce by any means, including by computer; or
(5) the offense is committed in the special maritime and territorial jurisdiction of the United States or in any territory or possession of the United States.
(e) Affirmative Defense.- It shall be an affirmative defense to a charge of violating subsection (b) that the defendant-
(1) possessed less than 3 such visual depictions; and
(2) promptly and in good faith, and without retaining or allowing any person, other than a law enforcement agency, to access any such visual depiction-
(A) took reasonable steps to destroy each such visual depiction; or
(B) reported the matter to a law enforcement agency and afforded that agency access to each such visual depiction.
(f) Definitions.- For purposes of this section-
(1) the term "visual depiction" includes undeveloped film and videotape, and data stored on a computer disk or by electronic means which is capable of conversion into a visual image, and also includes any photograph, film, video, picture, digital image or picture, computer image or picture, or computer generated image or picture, whether made or produced by electronic, mechanical, or other means;
(2) the term "sexually explicit conduct" has the meaning given the term in section 2256 (2)(A) or 2256 (2)(B); and
(3) the term "graphic", when used with respect to a depiction of sexually explicit conduct, means that a viewer can observe any part of the genitals or pubic area of any depicted person or animal during any part of the time that the sexually explicit conduct is being depicted.

You didn't and couldn't afford your own house either Woger. Didn't you move back in with Marie at the age of 40. Why weren't you in home ownership. Marie owned the house and you lived there Mr. So Called College Grad? So that says a lot for you at 40, whahahhhahahahaha.

Perhaps you can join the trailer boys down there in GlenDale considering that you can't hold any sort of decent job or start a business. Oh, I forgot, your mommy Marie gave you that house now didn't she. But still you're too lazy to get off your back and get a job so they had to shut the utilities off now and again.

Stop slobbering on those dicks and you could understand English. Of course, when you are speaking in West Virginia Hillbilly language and the only thing you understand is "Boy, you sure have a pretty mouth" the fact is that English isn't high on your priority list.

Wiseman doesn't own anything or anyone. It's doubtful that he even owns the computer he types this on. He lives in a shitty little house in Glen Dale WV. That his mother Marie gave him. It's so small that it couldn't have cost any more than maybe 25000 or so. He used to have a Yaesu 920 which probably had to be sold off to support his other habits. Not to mention the fact that when you monitor HF you never hear his piss willy signal. He couldn't scrape up the cash to get him a decent amplifier.

Even when he was jamming 20 and 75 meters you could hear others constantly keying over him. So much for the jamming attempt huh Woger. Didn't Riley send you a retest letter for that. Just because you couldn't understand or grasp the concept of good amateur practice. Oh, and by the way buy some decent equipment that way you can actually be heard on HF. He's pretty much limited to local VHF.frequencies now.

It's funny when you hear Wussman on the air on a daily basis. It's rare nowadays but in the old days before he worked constantly at BK he was involved in jamming the airwaves. But if you ever heard him he has a Doofus sounding voice. If you recall the character Doofus, that his what he really sounds like. He sounds like a Forrest Gump who has been hit in the head one too many times.

What do you actually do Woger? Did you get fired from the BK? Is it the golden arches now? Is it Akbar's Mini Mart? Where is it Woger? The Glendale

Hey Woger did you actually check out the statistics for that area? I'm not Todd but he lives in a county that is over 96 percent white. Only 2.3 percent black. I bet he has tons of black neighbors, RIGHT? You're such a loser Wussman. In fact, didn't you used to live in Tampa Florida where there is a high black population. Not to mention the fact that one of your ex's liked black men before you married her.

Blogger.com continues to allow copyright infringement and identity theft

I've asked repetitively blogger.com to remove this site http://newsgay.blogspot.com/ because it has on it a picture of me which is 1. COPYRIGHTED and is being used WITHOUT my permission and 2. the person running the site is make it out that I own the site, which I don't. This of course is Identity theft which is also a violation of federal law. If they do not remove it by this week I will notify the FTC which handles identity theft and I will seek a lawyer, to file suit for those violations of the law.

2172. The ARS NOT to move to Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau

From: The ARRL Letter
Vol. 25, No. 11
March 17, 2006

==>AMATEUR RADIO POISED TO STAY WITHIN FCC WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS BUREAU

The FCC approved a proposal March 17 to create a new Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (PS&HSB) that would assume some functions now under the umbrella of the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (WTB). But it appears that the Amateur Radio Service--now within the WTB's Public Safety and Critical Infrastructure Division, headed by Michael J. Wilhelm, WS6BR--will remain within the WTB, according to Anthony Dale, Acting Director of the FCC's Office of Managing Director (OMD).

"The Critical Infrastructure piece--that's things like taxi cabs, Amateur Radio, chemical plants, all that type of thing--those are not public safety-specific functions," Dale said in response to a reporter's question following the FCC open meeting. "The plan is to keep those in the Wireless Bureau."

Creation of the new bureau was a topic of some discussion during a meeting earlier this month of the ARRL Executive Committee. With the complete details of the reorganization still uncertain, however, the League is adopting a wait-and-see attitude for now.

Mika Savir, an attorney advisor within the FCC's OMD, presented the proposal to the Commission. "By this action, the Commission would take an important step to better address public safety, homeland security, national security, emergency management and preparedness and disaster management," she said.
"As you know, the Commission has a statutory mandate to assist in promoting the safety of life and property, as well as the national defense, through the use of communications."

An official document spelling out just which functions and services will end up where has not yet been made public, and even Dale did not appear to be entirely clear on specifics. He and others stressed that some PS&HSB functions may overlap those of other bureaus.

The FCC said the changes are subject to Congressional notification before they become effective. In addition, the Commission must work with the National Treasury Employees Union Local 209 to secure its approval for issues affecting the Commission's workforce.

The last changes affecting the functions of the WTB occurred in 2003. This reorganization has been several months in the planning. Some observers had speculated that Amateur Radio would be shifted to the PS&HSB, thus removing it from the WTB's market-based approach to regulation. Moving some of the WTB's current responsibilities to the new bureau, however, could speed up the process of moving Amateur Radio-related proceedings through the Commission.

The PS&HSB will have three divisions: Policy, Public Communications Outreach & Operations, and Communications Systems Analysis. In addition, the bureau will have a front office consisting of senior leadership and management staff.

The new bureau would be the seventh within the FCC. Commissioner Michael Copps said the proposed reorganization goes beyond "reshuffling" of the bureaucracy. He expressed the hope that creation of the new Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau would be viewed as "the first step in putting the FCC out front--where it long should have been--in providing communications security for all Americans in this dangerous age."

The Commission voted unanimously to approve creation of the new bureau.

Boo hoo.

Considering the crap YOU post, that parody site is NOTHING.

Example:

I am supportive of blogger rights as well as other means to support FREE SPEECH AND THE FIRST AMENDMENT both off and mostly on the internet. As an active user on the Internet I have been bashed and abused by ####ing Amateur radio Operators who in my opinion are nothing more then self-rightous bible banging Cb operators who are trying to suppress my right to voice my opinion on the internet. They believe that the internet should abide by the same rules as radio and television. well all I have to say to them is #### THEM! If you don't like what I have to say then don't come here or all the other message boards I own.

You can't talk like a responsble adult, ergo you're NOT going to get TREATED like one.

This will have nothing to do with the "safety of ARS freqs", Mork.

Getting folks to rally and finally push through ONE of the "spectrum protection act" bills that has been in front of Congress over the last 20 years WOULD, however no one seems to want to REALLY "do" anything to make those happen.

Nope. Morkie's been told over-and-over that this is not true, and even dialing it proves it's not true, yet here he is STILL claiming it to be true. More PROOF that Mark C Mrgan is a pathologocal liar.

Sure they do.

Frankie and Lennie are liars both. Both predisposed to deceit, profanity and defamation.

Lennie's been "violating" attributes since at LEAST 1998.

I haven't seen you "call" him on it once.

No we won't.

TRY and understand the difference between "public safety" and "Amateur Radio", Mork.

No it's not.

You act like a juvenile alien with minimalist grasp of the language you are trying to use...Just like Mork.

Nope. You're KB9RQZ. You act like Mork and proven you're a moron.

All factual.

Sure I do.

But for the last 6 months, when I do, you interject YOUR sexual

Make the call, Toad. Oh, that's right, your parents pay the phone bill, don't they?
Make the call if you can and ask. Thay'll let you know if he is indeed a graduate of USF or not. That's about all the info they are allowed to hand out, though. You'll have to keep making piss poor guesses as to what his major was. As it is your wont to do.
You are just jealous that Roger followed through with something (unlike you) and actually got a degree or two. You call them and you'll see he has credits toward a Master's too. You are a fucking imbecile and an eternal non-achiever, Toad.

More lying, Morkie.

It's "working" already.

You stayed up all night to "counter" any posts I made, and danced

Well, I lived in Meridian, MS for 10 years. Sadly I had to move back to NJ to take care of a family member. I enjoyed my time in Mississippi. There was little or none of the unbelievable liberal bull that there is here. If going back 75 years means outlawing dildoes, same-sex marriage, affirmative action, etc., I say it sound like Mississippi has the right idea. I suppose those that are so vocal in their opposition are those that use such appliances. Up here, it's an "alternative lifestyle," but in Mississippi, it's queers.

Not too many mosques in Mississippi, either.

You are typing on his computer, Toad? He built it, stupid, something you sure couldn't do, pizza BOY flunky.
And, you sure wouldn't be typing on his computer, you little chickenshit.

Oh, the irony when Billy typed:

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Message-ID: <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right." in <hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>
"Sure I can spell and smell."

<qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to
slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

Perhaps. I'm just dumbfounded why we're wasting spectrum on thanks for the free publicity steve, BTW the lolicon board is still up and running with now 114 members and growing. We've been getting five a day.

Were also discussing the problem on Not4chan (http://www.not4chan.org and there's a long thread on the subject of COPPA. BTW you don't have to go NAMBLA like steve here to join all you have to do is register and it's free.

"Federal Judge Virginia A. Mathis dismissed Charles A. Schlund's lawsuit against George W. Bush late last year - without a legitimate reason for doing so.
Charles Schlund is going to appeal Judge Mathis' decision. Charles Schlund is a whistleblower and political witness who is being subjected to high-tech
[i.e. electronic] torture by the U.S. government, in order to prevent him from exposing the massive corruption of the Bush administration. The information that Charles Schlund has is far more damaging to has, and the government is desperate to prevent Mr. Schlund from getting a fair trial."

it realy isn't a policy question is it after if it truely obeys the rules and doesn't interfer with us I am all for BPL, I am of course dubuious esp after reading some of the point Len Anderson made sone time back but frankly if we could work out the bugs we would also get powersystems less likely to cause powerline interference as well

I am concerned about bpl not dead set against the idea what other names?

I post under my at usenet zone since i can I post under the nick 'an old freind" through google, which are signed with email addresses based on MY name or call letters

Google is helpful in being able to sort out the retask of thread you enage in and stev enages in I post under no other name

you post as Lloyd daveis Me Todd and preahsp a few others aswell

Let's make something clear Child porn is illegal, well actually child porn is Legal, according to US Supreme Court Some of it may be artistic and therefore protected by the constitution. It the Processes on how it made that makes it illegal. In 1996 Congress passed the Child Pornography Prevention Act of 1996, which reinforced that that fact that the process on how child porn was created was illegal. But the law also banned "virtual child porn" that including computer generated, art, sculptures, cartoons and other artificial means. The US Supreme Court struck it down because it banned material that was protected under the first amendment, and unlike REAL child porn no children were harmed in the creation of it. The government also argued that people could use this material to entice children and also could be used child molesters to basic reinforce their behavior, but the court ruled that there was no evidence that such things happening as the court basically stated a child molester or child rapist isn't going to be using "virtual" material, their going to be using the real stuff. For if there was this big market for virtual child porn or "fake child porn" then the real child porn market will disappear, if a safer alternative was there. Safer for both the child (since virtual child porn doesn't use real children, but using artificial means i.e.. computer, art, sculptures, and cartoons) and safer for the distributers because he wouldn't be in fear of his life getting caught by the government, since child porn itself isn't illegal, only the process on how it's created is. So the Supreme Court struck down the CPPA, so Congress went back and passed the Child Obscenity Pornography Prevention Act (COPPA) COPPA again banned virtual child porn, (the computer generated stuff) but this time it has be "indistinguishable" and the term "indistinguishable" used with respect to a depiction, means virtually indistinguishable, in that the depiction is such that an ordinary person viewing the depiction would conclude that the depiction is of an actual minor engaged in sexually explicit conduct. This definition does not apply to depictions that are drawings, cartoons, sculptures, or paintings depicting minors or adults. The second part of COPPA made it Illegal of have painting, sculptures, cartoons that depict children having sex and are consider to be Obscene. The Second part of COPPA isn't a child porn law, it's a Obscenity law. For something to be consider obscene it be the following

"(1) an average person, applying contemporary community standards, must find that the material, as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest (i.e., material having a tendency to excite lustful thoughts);

(2) the material must depict or describe, in a patently offensive way, sexual conduct specifically defined by applicable law; and

(3) the material, taken as a whole, must lack serious literary,
artistic, political, or scientific value

To be consider Obscene it must be ALL three of those things listed above and if it survive just one it's not obscene. The first two are to be judge on a local or state level and the third is based on national level. In the State of Illinois it's not illegal to have cartoons (including the ones on my board) the State of Illinois on bans REAL child porn. Secondly cartoons have been deemed by the courts to be an art form, since they are drawn by hand they are an art form and protected under the first amendment. Finally, last time I check (which was last week) a group has challenged COPPA in the courts and it will be a long time before a final judgment will be issued.

Let's make something clear Child porn is illegal, well actually child porn is Legal, according to US Supreme Court Some of it may be artistic and therefore protected by the constitution. It the Processes on how it made that makes it illegal. In 1996 Congress passed the Child Pornography Prevention Act of 1996, which reinforced that that fact that the process on how child porn was created was illegal. But the law also banned "virtual child porn" that including computer generated, art, sculptures, cartoons and other artificial means. The US Supreme Court struck it down because it banned material that was protected under the first amendment, and unlike REAL child porn no children were harmed in the creation of it. The government also argued that people could use this material to entice children and also could be used child molesters to basic reinforce their behavior, but the court ruled that there was no evidence that such things happening as the court basically stated a child molester or child rapist isn't going to be using "virtual" material, their going to be using the real stuff. For if there was this big market for virtual child porn or "fake child porn" then the real child porn market will disappear, if a safer alternative was there. Safer for both the child (since virtual child porn doesn't use real children, but using artificial means i.e.. computer, art, sculptures, and cartoons) and safer for the distributers because he wouldn't be in fear of his life getting caught by the government, since child porn itself isn't illegal, only the process on how it's created is. So the Supreme Court struck down the CPPA, so Congress went back and passed the Child Obscenity Pornography Prevention Act (COPPA) COPPA again banned virtual child porn, (the computer generated stuff) but this time it has be "indistinguishable" and the term "indistinguishable" used with respect to a depiction, means virtually indistinguishable, in that the depiction is such that an ordinary person viewing the depiction would conclude that the depiction is of an actual minor engaged in sexually explicit conduct. This definition does not apply to depictions that are drawings, cartoons, sculptures, or paintings depicting minors or adults. The second part of COPPA made it Illegal of have painting, sculptures, cartoons that depict children having sex and are consider to be Obscene. The Second part of COPPA isn't a child porn law, it's a Obscenity law. For something to be consider obscene it be the following

"(1) an average person, applying contemporary community standards, must find that the material, as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest (i.e., material having a tendency to excite lustful thoughts);

(2) the material must depict or describe, in a patently offensive way, sexual conduct specifically defined by applicable law; and

(3) the material, taken as a whole, must lack serious literary,
artistic, political, or scientific value

To be consider Obscene it must be ALL three of those things listed above and if it survive just one it's not obscene. The first two are to be judge on a local or state level and the third is based on national level. In the State of Illinois it's not illegal to have cartoons (including the ones on my board) the State of Illinois on bans REAL child porn. Secondly cartoons have been deemed by the courts to be an art form, since they are drawn by hand they are an art form and protected under the first amendment. Finally, last time I check (which was last week) a group has challenged COPPA in the courts and it will be a long time before a final judgment will be issued.

While it IS true that there is massive corruption in the Bush Administration, I doubt that Charles Schlund knows any more about it than I do, or that Mr. Schlund is being subjected to "electronic torture". If W really wanted to silence Schlund, he'd simply throw him in prison, or cause him to "commit suicide". Remote control torture is a kook fantasy. Even in the high tech era, torture is done in person.

Shut the fuck up racist pig. I know just as many whites that piss and shit all over public toilets. BTW, I'm white in case you think I'm posting to defend what you may perceive as my race.

It's pretty sad when a 50 year old man wants some other guy to give him a BJ. But when you're Scheissman and you haven't received one for 15 years from a woman, you'll stoop to any level to get one. Poor Poor Scheissman, or is it Wussman.

Illiterate retard Scheissman burps again above. Or is what your parents always told you? Bwhahahha. Great sentence construction for a moron like Scheissman.

reclassified. That tells me that they were working on it.

Had we been reclassed, there might be actual demands that the ARS would have to live up to other than "goodwill.".

And there was no need for Brian P Burke, N0IMD (better known as "hot-ham-and-cheese@hotmail, brianburke@juno.com, billybeeper@juno.com,

Well Markie, there's the difference between you and I...See,
>>>I<<< would have been looking for a female name with a last name of Morgan since you CLAIM to be "married" to this guy.

Ironic that you keep regurgitating that item from another NG about "views of marriage" when YOUR own "wife" won't even take your last name in marriage. So much for YOUR "views" on marraige, eh, Creepo?

Funny that the prinicpals of the Feeble Five all like to lambaste others for perceived social faux pas', yet are front-and-center
"violaters" themselves.

What's RRAO...?!?! And a "cogent" answer? What's a "cogent" answer?

Morkie, you're at liberty to "drop the flame war" at any moment you chose to do so, but just like you accuse me of not being willing to killfile you, you will not drop the flame war.

You were given that opportunity weeks ago, albeit by a forged message, however one to which I both agreed and complied with.

You are a liar, Morkie. You are socially incompetent and without any redeeming value to yourself, your community, or Amateur Radio.

Flame away, Morkie...It only validates my accusations of you and proves that you enjoy your role as RRAP red-hatted monkey.

You're incapable of dropping it, Morkie. You just don't have it in you to behave.

No...it means someone may have THOUGHT about it...At best the article appears to simply say that it's not on the table for whatever reasons and that it's not on anyone's agenda to do otherwise.

More assinine, unfounded BS from Brain P Burke.

There's not ONE bit of media release about Amatuer Radio as it pertains to the most recent disaster response in Louisiana that is anything BUT positive vis-a-vis Amateur Radio.

WHERE do you come up with these assinine assertions, Burke?

Two years ago you started in on this line about how ARES/RACES/MARS would not be able to respond or sustain a disaster relief communications, yet there's been one significant disaster after another, none the least of which being Katrina, and in every case where those agencies responded there's been nothing but positive press...And I am NOT talking about ARRL stuff...Real, mainstream media...CNN, Fox, MSNBC, etc.

The Amateur Radio Serivce, under the banners of MARS, ARES, RACES, etc, has more than lived up to it's claims of disaster communications support, yet you continue to make a fool out of yourself claiming otherwise.

Burke, WHY do you continue this silly behaviour when you've been proven wrong over and over and over...?!?!

Idiot.

Can you prove it?

Some people in Illiopolis had some doubts as to your character and moral conduct. There were numerous questions about you. Having researchable archives wherein you acknowledge your devaint behaviour only helped substantite thier concerns.

I imagine it won't be long before the folks in Chassell catch on.

I have been here 3 years now

I have a neighboor that thinks I am clearly mental ill...becuase I do not mow my lawn "in the right way" therest think I am ok a bit strange.

Indeed the efforts made in your name to convince them that i am child molestors are so oer the top they convinced the folks aroound here I moved becuase I was ebing stalked by a madman

no welfare received here

I work at home on my pc, as I work I look over while files down load and suh which is why I can and do often enage in almost speed back and forth with you at time a better question is why do you stay up all night with me trading babrs. I am getting paid for it, and to some extent happy for for since it helps me stay awake when I am working sometimes BWHAHAHAHAHA You guessed wrong again, Toad. You must be looking in the mirror you little piece of shit. You claim Roger (who you always blather about) is 5'5? BWHAHAHAHAHA Guess again, shitface. Your gay lover Davies is 5'4" ......100 pounds? BWHAHAHAHAHAHAHA So much for your previous posts that Roger is overweight. You can't keep your fucking lies straight, Toad. You have called Roger on the phone, wanting to suck him off, I've heard the message you left on his answering machine.

Isn't it time you put your mommy into your 1980 Yugo (Toad DOES have a Yugo!) and go down to the bus station and hope she'll let you get her sloppy seconds?

Roger doesn't have a '79 Cutlass, dumbass. You got it wrong again.

Poor Toad, he never has a date, he's too busy playing with his Star Wars dolls and hot wheels.

Illiterate retard Toad guesses wrong again. But he always dodges the fact that he posted:

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Message-ID: <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right." in <hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad
hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>
"Sure I can spell and smell."

<qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to
slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

My Post Form rec.radio.amateur.policy regarding the crackdown on anime sitesThe following is a post I wrote regarding the recent crackdown on Japanese anime / hentai sites and was posted on rec.radio.amateur.policy, Also upon writing this Onii-chan another site was shut down:

Let's make something clear Child porn is illegal, well actually child porn is Legal, according to US Supreme Court Some of it may be artistic and therefore protected by the constitution. It the Processes on how it made that makes it illegal. In 1996 Congress passed the Child Pornography Prevention Act of 1996, which reinforced that that fact that the process on how child porn was created was illegal. But the law also banned "virtual child porn" that including computer generated, art, sculptures, cartoons and other artificial means. The US Supreme Court struck it down because it banned material that was protected under the first amendment, and unlike REAL child porn no children were harmed in the creation of it. The government also argued that people could use this material to entice children and also could be used child molesters to basic reinforce their behavior, but the court ruled that there was no evidence that such things happening as the court basically stated a child molester or child rapist isn't going to be using "virtual" material, their going to be using the real stuff. For if there was this big market for virtual child porn or "fake child porn" then the real child porn market will disappear, if a safer alternative was there. Safer for both the child (since virtual child porn doesn't use real children, but using artificial means i.e.. computer, art, sculptures, and cartoons) and safer for the distributers because he wouldn't be in fear of his life getting caught by the government, since child porn itself isn't illegal, only the process on how it's created is. So the Supreme Court struck down the CPPA, so Congress went back and passed the Child Obscenity Pornography Prevention Act (COPPA) COPPA

again banned virtual child porn, (the computer generated stuff) but this time it has be "indistinguishable" and the term "indistinguishable" used with respect to a depiction, means virtually indistinguishable, in that the depiction is such that an ordinary person viewing the depiction would conclude that the depiction

is of an actual minor engaged in sexually explicit conduct. This definition does not apply to depictions that are drawings, cartoons, sculptures, or paintings depicting minors or adults. The second part of

COPPA made it Illegal of have painting, sculptures, cartoons that depict children having sex and are consider to be Obscene. The Second part of COPPA isn't a child porn law, it's a Obscenity law. For something to be consider obscene it be the following

"(1) an average person, applying contemporary community standards, must find that the material, as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest (i.e., material having a tendency to excite lustful thoughts);

(2) the material must depict or describe, in a patently offensive way, sexual conduct specifically defined by applicable law; and

(3) the material, taken as a whole, must lack serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value

To be consider Obscene it must be ALL three of those things listed above and if it survive just one it's not obscene. The first two are to be judge on a local or state level and the third is based on national level. In the State of Illinois it's not illegal to have cartoons (including the ones on my board) the State of Illinois only bans REAL child porn. As for Obscenity in the state of Illinois #1 and #2 of the Miller test in Illinois applies to ADULT COMMUNITY STANDARDS, So obscenity in Illinois is a little more relax.

Secondly cartoons have been deemed by the courts to be an art form, since they are drawn by hand they are an art form and protected under the first amendment. Finally, last time I check (which was last week) a group has challenged COPPA in the courts and it will be a long time before a final judgment will be issued.

child porn itself isn't illegal, only the process on how it's created is. So the Supreme Court struck down the CPPA, so Congress went back and passed the Child Obscenity Pornography Prevention Act (COPPA) COPPA

again banned virtual child porn, (the computer generated stuff) but this time it has be "indistinguishable" and the term "indistinguishable" used with respect to a depiction, means virtually indistinguishable, in that the depiction is such that an ordinary person viewing the depiction would conclude that the depiction

is of an actual minor engaged in sexually explicit conduct. This definition does not apply to depictions that are drawings, cartoons, sculptures, or paintings depicting minors or adults. The second part of

COPPA made it Illegal of have painting, sculptures, cartoons that depict children having sex and are consider to be Obscene. The Second part of COPPA isn't a child porn law, it's a Obscenity law. For something to be consider obscene it be the following

"(1) an average person, applying contemporary community standards, must find that the material, as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest (i.e., material having a tendency to excite lustful thoughts);

(2) the material must depict or describe, in a patently offensive way,

sexual conduct specifically defined by applicable law; and

(3) the material, taken as a whole, must lack serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value

To be consider Obscene it must be ALL three of those things listed above and if it survive just one it's not obscene. The first two are to be judge on a local or state level and the third is based on national level. In the State of Illinois it's not illegal to have cartoons (including the ones on my board) the State of Illinois only bans REAL child porn. As for Obscenity in the state of Illinois #1 and #2 of the Miller test in Illinois applies to ADULT COMMUNITY STANDARDS, So obscenity in Illinois is a little more relax.

Secondly cartoons have been deemed by the courts to be an art form, since they are drawn by hand they are an art form and protected under the first amendment. Finally, last time I check (which was last week) a group has challenged COPPA in the courts and it will be a long time before a final judgment will be issued.

I have been gathering some sample to present the FBI of stevies action around here some the titels follow

These are from man who claims he never lies that he never threatens anyone that he does nothing anyone could find objectionable

MARK MORGAN, KB9RQZ, HAS AIDS!

Mark Morgan is Psychotic

Mark Morgan Caught On Tape Molesting 8 Year Old...Claims "He Was Asking For It".

MARK MORGAN: Wanna See Your Picture On A Phone Pole?

Mark Morgan Slips And Exposes His Cocaine Abuse Habit

Why Does Mark Morgan Have Multiple Personality Disorder? Why Can't One Of His "Personalities" Be An Educated Wise Man?

those are just the titles of his posts his own words he claims that I have done something that allow him to make these statements and still claim he never lies

what is wrong with this picture

Stevie claims he wants no contact with me (but why then he contiue to send me threatening email?)

but claims to faer contracting an STD from me

First I don't have one but that is beside the point

two he has to have contact with me to get one if I did

I've not sent you any threatening e-mail, PutzBoy.

You HAVE expressed your preference for (1) male sex and (2) forceful sex. It's not beyond you to attempt to force yourself on me.

Then just don't ever travel any farther south than Marquette.

And by the way, Mork...Thanks for regurgitating yet ANOTHER old and just how lame you really are.

It's no lie.

You've admitted to your mental health confinement before.

Or was that just ANOTHER of YOUR lies, Mork?

You?

Raped?

The only circumstances wherein I could see a creep like you being raped by other men is if YOU were confined and they believed you to be a child molester yourself. I've seen you before...That is DEFINATELY the face that only a mother, gold digger, or green card seeking non-US citizen could "love"...Oh..and the blind...They can pretend you look like Frank Sinatra if they want to...Everyone else's imagination is spoiled by reality.

No...it's failed cases like YOU that give the mental health field a bad name.

What's a "Broard"...?!?! And I already know all the particulars of my "board", Morkie.

Start with his allegations about me. References to accessable databases that documented my serivce in the USMC were posted long before Frankie involved himself in the tit-for-tat.

Follow that up with his assertions about actual USMC practice and policies.

The list is lengthy.

> Oh I am sorry oposing you is proof that you are lying I forgot

Nope.

Frankie having got caught not telling the truth is proof of his lying.

> > Why continue the charade?

That's because he's a liar and a coward. He made all kinds of assinine assertions, then got tripped up when I provided resources for him to follow-up on.

Of course his next immediate answer was that there happened to be another "Steven James Robeson" who happened to be the same age that also served and that I allegedly usurped "his" ID...Lame in the extreme.

> off hand I think he is mistaken on that count I think you had one. one

Yeah...Bad decision maker...that's why I spent the second half of my USMC career as the night shift Maintenence Controller for not one, but three CH53 units, and part of those years in Quality Assurance.

I am not a cop. Of any kind. That I point out YOUR frequent

Well, Markie, all I can say is that every DD-214 I got at each re-enlistment and at retirement said "Honorable" and there was not so much as one Article 15 punishment for being tardy to duty in all those years. Frankie racked up not one but TWO Court Martials in ONE four year tour, having never gotten above the rank of Lance Corporal.

I didn't make an "accusation"...Frankie admitted he was a ####bird PFC...

Being or not-being humble has nothing to do with rubbing the less-than-honorable character of Frankie's failed USMC service in his face. They'll never see my face on a USMC Recruiting poster, but hey, that's OK...I did my job, did it well, and DID serve honorably.

Frankie didn't. Nor did you, for that matter.

I'm not paranoid about anything, Morkie...You've regurgitated that

No one here is "frightened" of you, Morkie.

They are humiliating you....Not that you don't do a good enough job on your own!

Still as accurate today, but now we can add "red-hatted-monkey" to it.

What's "wrong" is that you don't see how absolutely idiotic you look!

Hey Brain, from what FIRST HAND, personal experience do you draw these conclusions?

So far, EVERYONE, including FEMA, HLS, and others have had nothing but praise for ARES/RACES et al.

STILL awaiting your refrences here....

Such as who?

> Yes I see your point, sadly it is a valid one

What point?

That he's making even MORE unfounded, baseless suggestions of poor performance of ARES? Because that's ALL Miss Burke is doing.

Miss Burke's "condition" here is clear. He's been making these "ARES can't do it" suggestions for 2 years now despite the onslaught of data to the contrary. Furthermore, when tasked to back up some of his allegations with SOME example or evidence, all he can do is disappear for a while and hope no one remembers what a fool he made of himself LAST time. (That seems to be an inherent trait for Feeble Fivers...Morkie, take notice...))

BILLY, DON'T BE A ZERO

Vocal: Bo Donaldson & The Heywoods

[Words and Music by Mitch Murray and Peter Robin Callander]

The gay pride band came down along Main Street
The Village People fell in behind
I looked across and there I saw Billy Smith Waiting to go and join the line
And with her head upon his shoulder
Mary, his old and hideous she-male mommy
>From where I stood, I saw she was cryin'
And through her tears I heard her say

"Billy, don't be a zero, don't be a fool all your life"
"Billy, don't be a zero, you can go back to school at night"
And as he started to go she said "Billy, keep your your head back as you blo-o-ow"
"Billy, don't be a zero, don't forget we can give 'em a two for one you know"

The whining faggots were trapped in a alley
The gay orgy raging all around Dick Sergeant cried "We've got to hang on, boys"
"We got to hold this piece a'ground"
"I need a volunteer to ride me"
"And bring us back some extra men"
And Billy Smith's hand was up in a moment
Forgettin' all the words she said

Everybody said
"Billy, don't be a zero, don't be a fool all your life"
"Billy, don't be a hero, you can go back to school at night"
And as he started to go she said "Billy, keep your head back as you blo-o-ow"
"Billy, don't be a hero, don't forget we can give 'em a two for one you know"

I heard his she-male mommy got a letter
That told how Billy swallowed that day
The letter said that he was a zero
She should be proud he swallowed that way
I heard she threw that letter away

[military drums and fifes to end]

Get to night school, Markie, you might be able to pass basic English this time, if you lay off the Valiums and Bud 40-ouncers.

Poor Billy, he forgets he posted(but then he's a drug addict):

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Message-ID: <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right." in <hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad
hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>

"Sure I can spell and smell."

<qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to
slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

he thinks we are better (safety of frequency wise) on the same leel as NYC taxi drivers

sad his attitude make me suspect what I don't want to believe that the

As said at http://n9oglvoice.blogspot.com, new Ree-Peater soon go up and will be also on echolink. You should look for it soon, although Steve and couple of other people will be blocked from connect on permanent basis. Steve leaves enough shit on the blog that we don't want him on Ree-Peater.

What kind music would you like to hear on Ree-Peater? Now that K1MAN able to play music, we might do it to.

Lying about what?
I don't use my name because I don't want jock straps mailed to me. I don't want any idiots harassing my family. I don't want my identity stolen.
Afraid? Not in the context your thinking. I used to work in a maximum security unit. If you think I can't defend myself you are sadly mistaken.

I ran into a person at a radio event recently. A non ham. He liked technical things and I thought he would enjoy getting into ham radio. I asked him "why not get a license, it's easier now. Some hams are experimenting in new methods of sending digital signals over radio and have a lot of fun experimenting."

He said years ago he thought about getting into ham radio and almost did, but at the time he was just too busy working, and time constraints meant it wouldn't have made sense for him to spend money on things he wouldn't get to use much.

Then he said, "I have time and money now to get into the hobby, but I won't because it sounds just like CB anymore."

After he said that, I felt like I was just punched in the guts.

Wow! From not posting his name to going on a "truely massive killing spree." Did you forget your meds today, or are you doing the enema thing before 5PM? Possibly both? Gee Markie, how did you come to the conclusion that anyone may be going on some Columbine type expedition? Do the shadow people live in your neighborhood?

you know ass whip this site http://no9glvoice.blogspot.com is in violation of copyright law, secondly you don't have a repeater because NO9GL is not a valid callsign, and I think I will drop the FCC a line and inform them that your pretending to be a licensee, not to mention claiming to play music over the air, which violates not on 97.113 but since your not a licensee it also violates Section 301 of the Communication Act of 1934. If they don't get you for that, they will get you for Idenity theft which is crime in the United States. At any rate you'll be going to jail for a long time.

OGL has not a legal foot upon which to stand. The burden of proof is upon Todd's shoulders and he will have to substantiate his accusations with verifiable facts garnered via subpoena.
Accusations, no matter how verifiable Todd claims them to be, MUST be backed up via legal standards that Todd is not likely to pursue.
So, Todd, the ball is in your court. Either hire an attorney to pursue your accusations and antagonists, or shut up and stop crying that someone is violating your copyrights.
Nobody is "going to jail for a long time", Todd. Or at least not any of your antagonists. If I were you, Todd, I'd be worried more about YOU going to jail for your kiddie porn. You have more to fear from law enforcement than your detractors.
If anybody is looking at going to jail, it is you.

Yes, Billy, your mommy told me as I fucked her.
(typical Roger response)

The only anal sex Roger has ever wanted was when Lloyd back-doored Roger in the fire escape stairwell during a Lavender Lad's concert in Wheeling.

Roger squealed in delight as Lloyd pushed Roger's sphincter to the breaking point.
Roger later wiped the sweat from his brow and said, "Damn! Lloyd, was that as good for you as it was for me?"

Woger has since been stalking Lloyd for a repeat performance and cannot wait for the next back stage Sphincter Invasion.
"After all", Roger says, "What are sphincters for if you cannot share?"

And now, as Paul Harvey says, you know the rest of the story.

Now you plagiarize? Too bad you can't even spell non sequitorcorrectly, though.

Er, Woger: It's spelled "non sequitur." Now what was that you were saying?

Then why are you trying to hide the content?

But you can't, because anyone can look by knowing enough to use links like

http://12.156.123.39/cpg135/albums/userpics/10001/normal_youjo05.jpg

to see one of the perverted drawings you are distributing to the world
- drawings which are in violation of current US Law and which ARE by definition illegal.

I'd love to see you call attention to yourself, pervert, by complaining about others.

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

Hey dumb-ass, Cartoons like that isn't child porn. The law only make it obscene. That why I "hide it" as you put it. When you join the board your agreeing to look at obscene material, Most of the people who join my board are anime and hentai fans and they know when they join what their getting into. That's who were catering to the Japanese anime/hentai fan. Child porn is two thing REAL CHILD PORN: in which REAL children are involved and Virtual Child porn (Computer Generated) Both of these are Illegal. paintings, Sculptures, cartoons and writings are NOT Child porn, they are consider Obscene. But even then there is a three prong test to determine wither they are obscene or not and they are:

the average person, applying contemporary community standards (not national standards, as some prior tests required), must find that the work, taken as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest;

the work depicts or describes, in a patently offensive way, sexual conduct specifically defined by applicable state law; and the work, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value.

(Miller V California US Supreme Court 1973)

To be obscene they must be all three of the three prong test, if it survives just one it not obscene, obscenity cases are very hard and very rare. In Illinois the first two must be based on the community standards of an ADULTs (not children). The must be patently offensive to ADULTS (not children). The third one is based on a national standard, and the federal courts has ruled in the past that cartoons like those on my board is ART, and therefore is artistic. In the State of Illinois Obscenity Laws are pretty relaxed compared to other states. In Illinois really when it comes to porn is that it can't be near schools or parks, apart from that it's legal here. But whatever.

He said that you are doing something illegal. You are.

The US authorities are forcing boards like yours off the net, according to your own blog. Doesn't that get through your thick skull?

And don't post some long-winded response every time you get caught forced retesting is mentioned.

Another UPDATE ON ANIME SITES
It has now come to my attention that those Lolicon Sites that were shut down had been shut down indirectly by the United States Government. Their webmasters feared the government coming after them and threatened the sites owners to remove content from the site. One site is still on, they only removed the content and the second site is planning to find a server overseas. But Hentai / lolicon sites weren't the only ones shut down www.nowthatsfuckedup.com was also threaten by the government. this NON-Lolicon site was a site were people post pictures of their girlfriend and boyfriends. The US government and their new ANTI-PORN squad is going after ALL forms of pornography and what it deems to be Obscene Speech. recently the ACLU petition the state of florida who has in man in jail for violating the state's obscenity laws, although the server was hosted in Europe. The site had not only pornography but it also had pictures from the war in Iraq.

The FCc can make any ham initially tested under the VE program retest, you fucking idiot. It's posted in the FCC Enforcement Log every time it's on the ARRL webpage.
What you are doing is lying, since the letter mentioned no reason save for the FCC's perogative to retest. You can't even pass the General test the first time and are waiting around for them to dumb it down to accomodate you since you are too stupid and lazy to pass the test under the current requirements.

You are as stupid as you appear.

Oh, the irony, Marky, Is that why Bob Dylan wrote this about you?

Idiot wind, blowing every time you move your mouth,
Blowing down the backroads headin' south.
Idiot wind, blowing every time you move your teeth,
You're an idiot, babe.
It's a wonder that you still know how to breathe.

Are you hallucinating? There's no such site. You better cut back on the beer drinking. And he's an "ass whip?" He must be a pretty tough guy.

Uh, it seems to me that the FCC can only get involved if he in fact is heard identifying on the air with that "call sign."

But he's not on the public airwaves, so the FCC has no jursidiction.

I really dont think you supplied enough information.

Was the person saying that he has heard (ie listened to an RX) or that he has heard (anecdotal evidence) that AR seems to be CB?

If the first case I guess you could use that as proof of licensing/examination inadequecies. If the second this is a misconception on the part of how AR is presented in the media or by just general perception. ie if the public knows little about radio then it can only be a "play thing" or "commercial" and both CB and AR get incorporated into the former.

I'll repeat to the point of causing nausea though that the examination doesnt (to my knowledge) tell you how to act/talk etc on the radio. It is more interested in proving technical and legislation competence and assumes your "common sense" will prevail. How the person talks/acts is in a sense the responsibility of the others of the "club". Do you really think that by keeping the techical competency high you will keep the "riff-raff" out? I dont.

I hope you suggested to the person that things are not all that bad and Roger's imaginary friend monitors local repeaters. In this case, he monitored the 145.240 repeater down river as I conversed with KF4SOR. Roger thinks that the fact that I had a car problem is big news. One problem with the imaginary friend tale is that there was no Echolink on the repeater in question. Roger's supposed friend isn't in this area, according to Roger/not Roger.

To Roger, the fact that my car is yellow is big news.
The fact that I worked for Sears during high school is big news.
The fact that I'm visiting my mother is big news.

Roger can't leave the big news as it is though. In Roger's mind, my car must be "shitty". He needs to hide in anonymity and post filth about my wife and mother. Roger is mentally ill.

You're right about Roger being friendless and a sociopath. Who else needs to invent an imaginary supporter and pal? Who else spends his waking hours posting filth on newsgroups while hiding?

Will Roger attend Marshall County ARES meetings? Nope, ain't happenin'
Will Roger attend Northern Panhandle Amateur Radio Club meetings? Nope, ain't happenin'. Will Roger participate in Field Day this year? Nope, ain't happenin'. Roger is quite afraid that he'll be called to account for his behavior.

Was the repeater lurking good this afternoon, UnWiseman? I've been driving for forty years, UnRoger. My experience is that if you drive cars, things break. Mine broke. I had it repaired.

They could likely give you the help you need in an institution, Roger. You'd have a nice, warm place to stay. You'd have three hot meals every day and they'd probably let you watch some television. I don't think they'll let you anywhere near radio equipment or a computer though.

To use the CB in the house as a Super-Base, You first need to put it in a microwave oven and run the oven for ten minutes on high power. This will harden the internal electronics so you can power it with household 110 volt electricity.

Next, Find an old AC 110V household power cord. Connect the red(+) wire from the CB Radio to one side, and the black(-) wire from the CB to the other one. House current is alternating current so it doesn' matter which is which you connect the wires to. Now, plug it into the wall.

Household power is much higher than the little twelve volts you get from a small car battery, So you should have a boomming signal. Also, put in 30 amp fuses in the fuse holders so your radio can use the higher power more effectively. When your radio starts smoking, you know you're getting out good. Use the instruction manual that came with the CB to wiff away the smoke if it gets too thick.

They made it legal here to noodle for catfish. There ain't no way I'm sticking my arm in a catfish mouth or the holes where they hide.
I need to do a little squirrel hunting though. I think it's better than

Why do no-code ham radio operators draw so much attention to themselves?
I'd reckon they would try to stay below the radar in rec.radio.cb.

Err well, VK has just had the foundation license start up. I'll admit though that I havent been paying attention as my sphere of interest rarely has me talking on more "popular" places like HF and FM rptrs. I am also living in East Texas!

I do remember some 2m FM rptr stupidities in Sydney maybe 10-15 years ago. It went on for quite a while and I think made a lot of amateurs give up on that mode. I personally think simplex whilst mobile (SSB on 2 & 6) was much more rewarding anyway.

There is certainly a lot of irritating and generally useless behaviour in AR newsgroups but I have only actually heard one (obnoxious) person on HF that kept me VFO'ing since I arrived in the US. I therefore havent really heard any problems first hand. I just wander along experimenting on what interests me and dont seem to be affected.. Perhaps the unsavories tend to congregate where I am not!

Cheers Bob W5/VK2YQA

Back in my younger years I would get some assholes that would make threats.
They think they are safe behind the mic. You track them down and all of a sudden they are dead bolting the door. It's the same with the internet, they think they are safe behind the keyboard, but when the doorbell rings they crap their pants.

Make sure you wear clothes you won't mind throwing away. You don't want crisco and his stench on your good boots. Remember to bathe in tomato juice to get the stink off.

That's exactly what he does. He even has a bunch of sock puppets posing as his invisible friend. If you ring his doorbell, he looks through a peep hole and stays very, very quiet.

Only if you did it with malice and forethought!

Ever made deer jerky? I finally got my recipe right. Really sucks when people argue that you are lying with them that it is not beef! It's time consuming, but other than making sausage from venison, I really don't care too much for the taste. Of course, I wouldn't waste the backstrap that way! :-)

Hardly I merely point a fact

I never claimed you threatened or een seriously condered one, and yet you choose to lie and say I have

You pointed an implied threat of force to defnd your self against dealing with folks you don't like I pointed out correctly that no such use of force could be sucesfull with a massive killing spree I estimate based on your post that it would roughly 20 million people being killed to begin to total silence the folks you seem to be afraid of, a truly massive killing spree that is thankfull beyond your abilty to carry out even if you desire to do so.

It is hardly paranoid to notice the facts of the situation you need to learn the meaning of the words you bandy about what is wrong with this picture

What is wrong? What is wrong, you ignoramus, is that those posts were made

PROTECT - Public Law 108-21 is currently the law of the land. Maybe it will be overturned one day, but until that day you are committing a felony by putting up images which depict children having sex.

That's why the lolicon boards are being shut down. You have said it yourself on your blog. Your own board is not one bit different than those which have already been forced off the net.

I have a feeling that it's only a matter of time until you are contacted by law enforcement.

The PROTECT ACT is currently being challeged in the court. The part of the PROTECT ACT your refereing to is the Child Obscenity Pornography Prevention Act or COPPA (aka CPPA version III) which makes it illegal not only to have real child pornography but virtual child pornography (i.e. computer generated) as well. (although the Supreme Court ruled twice once in 2002 and again 2004 that virtual child pornography was protected under the First Amendment)
After the Supreme Court made it ruling the US Congress passed the Protect Act, the problem with it, in regards to virtual child porn is that the law was pretty much the same law the Supreme Court struck down, as a matter of fact the group that challeged the CPPA wrote Congress a letter and informed them that the Protect Act was under the Supreme Court ruling also unconstitutional. The ACLU Also wrote congress along with a number of laywers making the same statement that the Child Obscenity Pornography Prevention Act (which is part of the PROTECT ACT) WAS under the SUPREME COURT RULING UNCONSTITUTIONAL.
The first part of the COPPA deals with the banning of virtual porn (Computer Generated) as I stated above. The second part of that law makes any sculpture, painting, drawing, cartoon or writing that depict children having sex to be OBSCENE, AND NOT CHILD PORN. Because as the Supreme Court stated drawings, paintings, cartoons and writings come from someone's imagination. "Real Child Porn in in itself is NOT ILLEGAL, It is the Process on how it's created that makes it illegal. The process in which child porn is created is by the harming and sexual abuse of REAL children and since no children are harmed in the creating of virtual child porn it doesn't fall under the scope in Ferber nor does it fall with scope of Miller". (Ferber V New York US Supreme Court 1982); (Ashcroft v Free Speech Coliltion US Supreme Court 2002) So Since no real children were harmed in the creating of those cartoons on my web site then they are NOT Child Porn, and for it to be deemed Obscene under the PROTECT ACT then it must be all three of the three prong test of Miller (Miller V California US Supreme Court 1973) and it must be ALL THREE of the THREE PRONG TEST to be consider obscene.

SO Lloyd keep crying about it on here, because NOTHING is going to happen.....BTW YOU SHOULD REALLY READ THE UPDATE ON MY BLOG ABOUT THIS ISSUE.

Off to put more pictures on my site :)

Woger went off the deep end years ago. His current posts are nothing new. You would have to understand Woger to know how his mind misfires. He hears voices.

Woger is, to begin with, a Bastard. No, not a Bastard in the name-calling sense, but a Bastard in that he was put up for adoption in his early years. There is some doubt that Woger even knows who the sperm donor was.

Woger went on to marry a poor, unsuspecting woman who must have had an I.Q. that registered at the freezing point. His marriage failed and the poor gal gave Woger his walking papers. Woger had to leave Florida with his tail between his legs.

Wogie also claims to be an Air Force veteran, though there are no records to substantiate that claim and the Air Force records show no person by this name on their rolls.

Woger also claims that he bought the house he now lives in, despite old records that indicate that his adoptive mother, Marie, was the only owner of record prior to her demise. Those records are no longer available because Woger raised a stink about it and demanded they be removed from public scrutiny.

Woger is now the sole owner of record for his inherited, $33,000 home and there are tax records still available for on- line scrutiny. Or at least there were. Perhaps Woger went to the Recorder's office to have them removed once again.

And there is little doubt that Woger is well known with the local law enforcement officers. They have been to his home on more than one occasion and when Woger was called to the Chief's office some years ago for questioning, Woger had some sort of a cardiac problem that caused the Chief to call the medics. As Woger was being carted off in the ambulance the Chief said, "I thought we were going to lose him."

It is no secret that Woger is a rather short man. He stands all of five feet and four inches tall in high heels. He likewise has a complexion problem even at fifty years of age.

It is also no secret that Woger has been under the care of a Psychiatrist and has prescription medications that he is supposed to take daily. Woger suffers from paranoia and other mental disorders and one can see this very easily. Just look at the photos of his house. Who, in his/her right mind, would keep the curtains and shades pulled down 24/7? Not just one or two shades, but ALL of them.

Woger is clearly afraid of something or somebody. Or, maybe it is the psychoactive meds he takes.maybe the drugs make his eyes sensitive to daylight.

Most likely, though, Woger keeps the blinds drawn because he lives in fear of the outside world. He is only brave behind his keyboard.

We bought one of those dehydrators to make jerky. The wife has gotten really good at it. I have a place that makes jalapeno cheese sausage that is top notch.
I use the backstrap to make medallions, fry them up and deglaze with wine.
Fooled many family members that say they don't like deer.

I'd love to hear the recipe for making jerky from chicken. I've used my dehydrator for making beef and pork jerky, but never chicken.

Nope. Calling a spade a spade.

Brain's making an "attack thread" of his own with more of his unfounded, misleading and outright deceitful assertions about Amateur Radio emergency communications in general and ARES in particular.

He's been doing so for almost two years now. He's not provided one iota of substantiating documentary evidence that his vile "opinions" are even remotely validated.

In short: Brain P Burke is lying.

What mistakes?

What ####ups?

Still nothing but praise from EVERY entity that had ANY contact with the effort of the Amateur community.

And still nothing but unsubstantiated, mistruthful and outright deceitful allegations from the the Twit Brothers of the Feeble Five.

Yeah, but being a sexual deviate, chronic liar and deceitful twit have nothing to do with competency in emergency communications.

That means you can perfporm your yearly douche of your mommy's skanky cunt with your tongue, fucktard. At least he has a yard, all you have is your never cleaned filthy HUD apartment, pizza boy. That little two roomer would normally take 5 minutes to clean, if it wasn't for the 5 years of garbage, old clothes and roach shit you have to live in to clean up.

Perhaps the chest-thumpers only made it seem like there was a lot of good press. This isn't to say that the volunteers didn't perform a needed service or perform it well.

needed certainly but truly how well did they do? I listened to some of it clearly the voltoteers were hampered by the fact the govt had colapsed in the area. I caught an no ham story about a sheriff hijacking a truckload of FEMA ice for his town that was just siting 6 day later at an ari base.

the efforts were claerly confused and chaotic. It wouldnice if the whole could be discussed dispassionately to see where thing could be inproved for some future disaster on this scale

but we know the chest thumpers will not allow

Ten-Nine Good-buddy? Breaker, Breaker, You a product of out-come based licensing?

I was a member for many many years, but I dumped them nine years ago when they started pushing their proposals to dumb things down. I want those assholes to give me my dues money back now. I didn't pay them to screw everything up.

BTW, I'm not Dan.

"Hello..."

I guess you missed out on the ARRL's campaign to bring more amateurs on board.

I always thought the code was doing enough to dumb down the service.

In the April 2006 editorial by David Sumner, K1ZZ, David introduces the concept of "Hello."

And in the 8th paragraph, he validates something I've said and have been blasted for again and again. I've said that you almost have to know a ham to become a ham. And I've said it again and again and again despite the attacks from the Extra-Elite that storm the halls of RRAP.

Here are David's exact words:

"The best place to start is with the people closest to you. Most of us were introduced to Amateur Radio by friends and family, or by someone once removed - the friend of a friend. Oh, we might have read a book or seen an article or some television coverage about Amateur Radio, but it took the personal touch to turn that glimmer of interest into a passion. It took someone's helping hand to guide us through the maze of unfamiliar terms, baffling regulations and arcane procedures. Now it's our turn."

Now David Sumner, K1ZZ, speaking for the ARRL in QST magazine validates what I've said and have been attacked for saying.

Did David say, "Most of us were introduced to Amateur Radio by friends and family, or by someone once removed - the friend of a friend???" Yes, he did.

Did David say "baffling regulations???" Yes, he did.

Well, I didn't need David's validation. I knew I was speaking the truth all along.

This is funny, coming right on the heels of the FCC validating what they think the true worth of the ARS.

3146. "Baffling regulations"

In the April iss issue of QST, David Sumner K1ZZ editorializes the new public relations campaign "hello..."

In the eighth paragraph, he mentions "baffling regulations."

Merriam-Webster on-line has this to say about baffle:
---
baffle
One entry found for baffle.

Main Entry: 1baf·fle Pronunciation: 'ba-f&l
Function: transitive verb
Inflected Form(s): baf·fled; baf·fling /-f(&-)li[ng]/
Etymology: probably alteration of Middle English (Sc) bawchillen to denounce, discredit publicly
1 : to defeat or check (as a person) by confusing or puzzling : DISCONCERT
2 : to check or break the force or flow of by or as if by a baffle synonym see FRUSTRATE
- baf·fle·ment /-f&l-m&nt/ noun
- baf·fler /-f(&-)l&r/ noun
- baf·fling·ly /'ba-fli[ng]-lE/ adverb

I've often commented on the need for our regulations to make sense. They need to be vertically and horizontally consistent. They need not be arbitrary. They need not baffle.

Yet I've been attacked again and again and again by the Extra-Elite of RRAP wrt this topic.

Now David Sumner, speaking for the ARRL in the pages of QST validates what I've said and have been attacked for.

Thanks you Extras. I'm sure your hearts were in the right place.

I wonder why that was? Most of the press wouldn't be able to stand themselves if they reported on any positive aspects of the relief efforts.

This was a point lost on the Extra-elites of RRAP. For them, amateur radio's role is to support their government masters. I asked again and again what did Joe Average have to communicate with? Who was supporting Joe Average?

So, with the government collapsed in NO, who did the amateurs (that were trained to support the government) support?

I heard about tons and tons of ice being driven all over the USA for no good.

"Lessons Learned" are often merely lessons transcribed on to paper and not learned.

The next disaster will likely have a different set of players.

I've started a Online Amateur Radio Encyclopedia so that amateur's and non-amateurs can look up facts and information regarding amateur radio, technology and electronics. I'm using Wiki which is the same program Wikipedia online encyclopedia is using and I hope amateur's will help by adding their knowledge to this free online reference system so both amateur and non-amateur's can use it as a valuable tool.

but there is not real clearing house for free stuff. So I start up Stiki Wiki using software I stole from Wikipedia. Come see Stiki Wiki at http://2.156.123.39/stikiwiki/index.php/Gooey_Page and you not be sorry.

Liquid smoke

Soy Sauce

Sugar

Red Pepper and coarse ground black if you like peppered jerky

Mrs. Dashes' extra spicy seasoning

Morton's tender quick salt curing-dissolved in marinade (use 1/4 of what pkg says per pound)

Mix the above in desired amounts, and marinade for 24 hours minimum. Of course, you must remove ALL fat from the venison, but I usually save that and the small amount of meat that accompanies it for sausage. You must also remove the shiny covering that is between the muscles and covering the hams.

Smoking...fire up the smoker, and I usually use hickory or oak, or a blend of the two. Smoke ONLY until the meat turns grey and loses standing moisture. Remove it gradually as the pieces do not dry uniformly. At this point, put it into the dehydrator and dry to the desired level. Keep in mind that the final product will be dryer and less tender than it appears in the dehydrator due to it being warmed somewhat. Don't hesitate to run a test batch, as this was the hardest part for me to get right. I tended to over dry it!

What you will wind up with, in my opinion and others who have tried this jerky as well, is a very good jerky that will rival or usually surpass anything you can buy commercially.

Keep in mind tho, this is basically an all weekend endeavor, and must be watched very closely. Don't attempt it unless you have the time!

Get your check book out...

Honestly, I don't know how "Hello..." could cost much if anything.
It's a campaign to get mostly existing amateurs to recruit new hams.
The ARRL is popping for a new video and website, and thats about it.
Hell, I'll even buy one of their bumper stickers and speak of amateur radio to anyone who asks about it.

True. But there are lots of internal amateur privileges that are inconsistent from band to band. And I still think if we have a pass fail exam based on Farnsworth code that it should be codified in Part 97.

But I'm still in favor of Hans' one license ARS. But if we're going to chop it up into itty bitty pieces, we might as well be consistent from band to band.

I'm that kind of guy.

BTW, the March issue of CQ Magazine has an interesting editorial on the rewrite of the Technician QP. It might even be on line. Zero Bias by Rich/WV2U addresses the various characters that claim that the ARS is being dumbed down.

I've enjoyed catching up on my ham related reading.

We've all heard about the claimed "dumbing down" of the ARS. I think the ARRL took a bold step when they began putting together their continuing education training classes. Now I'm curious... Who is taking them?

If you have taken one or more of their classes, please tell me which one and why. Were they of high quality?

If you haven't taken one, I'd like to know the why of that as well.

Jerky responders will be ignored.

I'll start first.

I haven't taken a single one, but I'm interested in the antenna modelling course.

Why haven't I taken it?

I just don't want to commit the time. I'm still on dial-up and dial-up is a PITA.

I dunno. I did subscribe to QEX years ago and it was plenty technical for me. Too bad they removed that sort of thing from QST. Perhaps if they can have their annual "nostalgia" issue, they can put out killer "technical" issue each year?

What do you think?

But there are other courses, such as the emcomm series, the antenna modelling that I mentioned, etc. I'll post a list. Hey, there's one I hadn't seen before: RFI.

Available Courses
Sample Course
Level 1 AREC (EC-001)
Level 2 AREC (EC-002)
Level 3 AREC (EC-003)

Under 47 CFR Sec. 1.945, pertaining to license grants for authorizations in the Private Radio Services, subparagraph (c) sets forth the findings necessary for the Commission to grant the application in question without a hearing, and subparagraph (f) states that the Commission has to designate the application for a hearing if it can't make the findings contained in subparagraph (c). Assume that an amateur appllies for renewal of his license and the Private Radio Bureau "offlines" it, which is tantamount to saying that the Commission cannot make the findings contained in subparagraph (c), and takes no action on it for an extended period of time. How long does the Commission have to sit on the application before designating it for a hearing under subparagraph (f)? And what provision of law imposes that time limit?

I think the refference is storuous avoidance refing to the case of K1MAN without naming him and f so I frankly agree that a case for him to file an action in federal court for releif from this state of affiars but he needsto do not rant though spokemen in RRAP

"Claimed dumbing down"?
its not a claim. I still have my old test materials from 1992 and I compared those with the latest test pool questions and also some test pool questions found in some old VE materials dating from the 1970's. there is no "claimed" about it. its a definite and provable TREND.

When my then 13 yr old daughter took her Tech test last summer I almost cried. She was whining about how hard it was. So I had her bring up a practice exam on one of the popular web sites. Just using the basic statistical idioms of multiple choice tests (which letters are most used in which portion of a test) and without being asked or seeing a single question, I scored an 88. My daughter stopped whining and passed her exam 2 days later. The odds of probability would have had me scoring between 45 to 60, using the method I chose, and I have crummy luck.

And just for the record, Yes I am a no-code Tech, For thirteen years I have struggled to learn itand never got anywhere further than 3 and 4 day long migraine headaches, but I'm half german and the rest is irish... I'll fight with it until I win or it's filtering the finest irish whisky on my grave. As for the fate of the code? As easy as it would be for me to see it go away, it belongs here. If there HAS to be a change, bring BACK the FOUR License classes and perhaps make 10 meters a training ground, giving the nocoders contact with HF with rigs that are within reasonable price ranges for learners. They would have access to ssb as well. Bear in mind I am not proposing that the band simply be handed over, this is where the additional class would come in.

There is no question that the priveledge has to be earned, and I am not suggesting a tech plus type thing. Take the exams for Tech from the early ninties, set up study material but no question pool. Make them prove they have learned what the answers they multiple guessed mean, this will sort out the casual radio fan from a true ham.
Now there is a very specific reason I chose 10 meters. There are all mode ten meter rigs available all over and for about the cost of a reasonable HT, as opposed to the higher expense of all mode rigs, in 6 meters and up. Not to mention, there are inexpensive, relatively inconspicuious antennas available from just as many places. Considering how many new techs let their licenses lapse because here is nobody to hold a qso with on the "tech frequencies, it would also supply an "on the air" place and chance for thousands of established hams to shape the future of our hobby, and help restore the esteem that once accompanied the name "Elmer". So, what do you think?

What house, fatty? All you have is a filthy HUD section 8 apartment in the ghettos of Athens, AL.

In those days there were those who continued to laugh their asses off at the king of knob jobs in alabama as Lloydie has come to be known. There were also those who instigated and spread rumors for the king of knob jobs in alabama to cover the truth.

And there were others who had actual pictures of the king of knob jobs in alabama laying down with other men. When Lloydie aka: the king of knob jobs in alabama saw these, he consulted with the niggers and crackheads that surrounded his hud apartment and all were belly laughing at the fact that this obese, mentally retarded dork would stalk Roger acrosss the face of the cyberworld and spread vicious lies about him.

But in the end it was known that a strong odor eminated from the king of knob jobs in alabama and much strong lye soap was necessary to cleanse his filthy body and hud apartment of the stench. So, the order was given by the city of athens sanitation department to fumigate his filthy, roach infested hud hovel.

When the fumigation was complete, cockroaches were scurrying into the streets and lawns of athens like never before. Now, when a light was turned on, those who had seen Lloydie's hovel before were amazed at the mounds of dead roaches, rats. The stench of shitty underwear was overpowering, so much so the sanitation workers had to wear gas masks.

When the sanitation workers got to stepping to escape the roaches and rats, the king of knob jobs in alabama lay in wait in ambush for the sanitation workers in their path to return to their vehicles. Then the king of knob jobs in alabama leaped forward and stood in their path. The king of knob jobs in alabama had been licking his thick blubbery lips in anticipation of sucking these black sanitation workers off to satisify his perverse sexual desires. They laughed at the obese retarded one, who they always laughed at behind his back. They brushed him aside as he fell to his knees and begged them to let him suck their big black nigger dicks. Lloydie knew that they knew that all escape routes were blocked and he was in deep shit. As the king listened to their guffaws and mocking him, he sharpened his pizza cutter, for the king of knob jobs in alabama is nothing more than a pizza delivery boy.

The king of knob jobs in alabama finished sharpening his pizza cutter and looked at the niggers and crackheads laughing their asses off and pointing at him in mockery.

Then Lloydie heard, DAMMIT, Lloyd, you have pizzas to deliver, are you napping and daydreaming on the job again, and there was much scurrying about to complete his given tasks.

I'm sure the ARRL would have those figures. The CE-classes are frequently filled up to where nobody else can enroll in them.

And if they eliminate the code and change the current testing pools,

I have sought advice from a communications lawyer, and was informed that there is no applicable time limit for the Commission to act on applications. The attorney said this is often a problem where the Commission simply doesn't want to act on the application; in such a case, they will try to just sit on it forever. When the delay becomes particularly egregious, the attorney files a petition for a writ of mandamus against the Commission in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, which has exclusive jurisdiction over such actions.

What house, fatty? All you have is a filthy HUD section 8 apartment in the ghettos of Athens, AL.

In those days there were those who continued to laugh their asses off

There were also those who instigated and <snip Roger's plagiarism of Les 3231. Riley Hollingsworth is a paper tiger "bluff artist"

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.policy

From: bcrowell@excite.com Message-ID: <1143480928.544057.255990@z34g2000cwc.googlegroups.com>
Source record: 139521

In 2000 I received a Warning Notice from Riley Hollingsworth that I believed to be legally deficient under Part 97 as not stating an actual Rules violation, so I responded to it and told Mr. Hollingsworth I was going to ignore his Warning Notice, and that he should designate my case for a hearing before an ALJ if he wished to pursue it. He never did.

Then in January of this year I applied for a vanity callsign, but my application was "red-flagged" and "offllined for Enforcement Bureau review". This got me wondering how long the Commission can sit on an application while neither granting it nor designating it for a hearing. So I spoke to several Commission staff members, former staff members who now work in private industry and communications lawyers in Washington, D.C. They have many contacts within the Commission and are quite familiar with Hollingsworth's tactics and strategies. They said unanimously that Hollingsworth is NEVER going to designate an amateur case for a hearing before an ALJ. They didn't want to go into the precise reasons why not, so I won't speculate as to what the reasons might be. But they all seemed quite adamant about it. They all seemed to be saying, "I can't tell you how I know this, but trust me, it is true."

If this is true, which I believe it is from all the evidence available to me, it means that Hollingsworth has reduced himself to the role of pure bluffer, and everybody is becoming aware of it. Therefore, all you have to do to defeat a Warning Notice, an N.A.L. or a notice of revocation is to reply to it, denying the allegations and asking for a hearing, and you will hear nothing further from Riley. And if he tries to deny renewal of your license, all you need to do is reply to the Notice of Non-Renewal, asking for a hearing, and you will be permitted to continue operating until an ALJ finally decides your case. Which will be forever, because Riley is not going to designate the case for a hearing in the first place.

It seems to me that Riley needs to be more honest and candid with his fellow hams. If he doesn't intend to ever take any cases to hearing, he should simply admit it, and admit that his power is reduced, essentially, to "jawboning". At least that way he would retain a modicum of credibility. As things are now, he is losing all his credibility and pretty soon nobody is going to take him seriously at all.

FIRST OFF, you don't speak for me, FUCKing IMPOSTOR!!!!!!!

SECOND OFF, Feds always go to ISP and put monitor softwares like echelon on ISPs router and listen to everything you send or receive.
They wait until they have lots evidance before they move you little whiney turd.

LAST OFF ALL, they come in middle of night and take all you computers for evidance and maybe you to jail. When that happen, I gwine to say

There are a number of people in the FCC that are like that. For example the Media Bureau will automatic dismiss a waiver request because if they deny it you can challenge the denial and the FCC dosen't want anyone challenge their rules or reasoning. I know this all to true.

"you have 2 choices fight or accept you are dealing with one of the standard tools in any 'crats kit the stall"

First of all, you really should learn to write and punctuate. You have 4 run-on sentences without any period or capiltals. Such an inability to write correctly makes it very difficult for someone with any intelligence to take what you say seriously. In other words, if you fail to recognize how poorly you write, one assumes you must be a real intellectual lightweight.

Second, you failed to take my point. Maybe you have a reading problem, too? My point is (and you would have understood it it you had read my post carefully) there is NO REASON to fight. Riley can't do anything without taking a case to a hearing, and if he is not going to take any cases to hearing he simply can't do anything.

I was saddened to hear of the sudden death of Paul Flaherty, N9FZX, of a heart attack. He was only 42.

Paul was a early, and long-time, participant on the newsgroups, including rec.radio.amateur.*. I participated in a discussion thread with him on ba.broadcast just a few months ago.

A PhD graduate in Electrical Engineering at Stanford University, Paul was a past president of the Stanford University Amateur Radio Club (W6YX).

Paul was best known as a co-creator of AltaVista, one of the earliest web search engines, while at the Digital Corporation.

At the time of his death, he was Product/Strategy Vice President at Talk Plus.

It has been no secret for several years now that Hollingsworth is nothing more or nothing less than a massive pile of BULLSHIT. Meaning he is the master of the bluff and a proficient liar. He has never and never will take any enforcement action which requires him or the commission to face off in a legal setting. That was one of the absolute requirements laid upon him when he assumed his present position.

well, actually, this is not a bad suggestion. in fact, to carry it further, assign a small (like 50 khz) chunk of each HF band to "no-coders" and if they want more, they need to learn the code. this gets them participating and perhaps (just a wish here) LEARNING!

very true.

most of the real hams also had this talent for building a lot of their own equipment (and yeah, I do miss being able to do that).

SWS wrote: "He has never and never will take any enforcement action which requires him or the commission to face off in a legal setting. That was one of the absolute requirements laid upon him when he assumed his present position."

Can you explain to me why this was required of him? It doesn't make any sense to me to tie his hands like that. The explanation that was offered to me was that the FCC's budget will not allow it, and that they just don't want to spend any money on ham radio. When the Commission goes to a hearing before the ALJ, their budget is charged for the ALJ's proportionate salary and, since the Commission appears by the U.S. Attorney, there is an inter-agency budget transfer from the FCC to the U.S. Attorney's office to cover the proportionate salary of the Assistant U.S. Attorney who represents the Commission. Also, I've been told that the Assistant U.S. Attorneys are very ambitious and only want to handle high-profile, important cases in order to get promoted, and that any Assistant U.S. Attorney who was forced to handle a lowly ham radio ALJ hearing would become the laughing stock of the office. Does this sound correct to you?

Whining, Roger? Hardly. My car runs fine. I know that a land baron such as yourself, living in that palatial estate, must have all kinds of money to burn.

The only person observed to be whining over that incident would be UnRoger. There's quite a difference between "bothering to answer the door" and your early claim that the visit was a lie. There's quite a difference between "bothering to answer the door" and claiming that you didn't open the door because it would have been "2 on 1".

The really good news is that the car has been repaired. Thanks for your concern. Stay tuned to the local repeaters for more gems of information. You might be able to add to your big scoops on my working at Sears during high school, my car being yellow and my car needing repairs. You might be able to hire on at CNN.

Says the twat who's reallly been on anti-psychotics, eh, Marky?
A shame it was for you I'd bet. Anyway, you still managed to get grassed up and drunk enough to kill all the braincells necessary to assure your easy target status here, fluffboy.

You are gay. Toad. You post about subjects like you are gay (especially those shemale pics you post over at nimbusters), and you still live at home with your parents, and play with Star Wars dolls. You sure don't ever have dates with women. That's a fact. You are Queer, Toad. Now have another fag fit, faggot.

Poor obsessive stalker Davey.

Thanks for your yuks, fatass. "Velley", indeed.

Dave Heil, aspiring actor, yet English impaired said
In article <425179BB.84722...@earthlink.net>:
"I didn't ask if you cold read."

Davey's grammar suggestion falls flat as he should really use the suggestion for himself in Message-ID: <I3cIe.255$Wi6....@newsread2.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"I think little details like spelling and grammar and important to a number of us here in r.r.a.p. Why not have the pool of typists polish the stuff you intend to post here?"

Davey Vile whines to the "Police" even if he can't spell it, too bad they didn't inform him how to correctly spell "Police" in Message-ID: <4tJTe.7145$4P5.1...@newsread2.news.pas.earthlink.net>
"I learned of it during several visits to Glen Dale, WV Polic Chief"

Dave Heil shows off his knowledge of Spelling as well as Geography in <h46If.238$VI6....@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"the one in a narrow velley between two hills"

Dave pegs the irony meter, given his narrow minded mindset and newsgroup behavior in Message-ID: <8G4Jf.2196$JR6.1413@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"I'm sure that you have difficulty dealing with anyone unlike yourself."

There Dave Vile goes mangling a sentence again in <_OxKf.2395$VI6.1169@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"There you go underestimated people again."

Welp, I really wanted to know if hams are actually taking these courses and if the courses were of high quality.

And the most I got was some noise about how the ARS has been dumbed down.

But at the end of the day, those schreeching loudest that the ARS has been dumbed down haven't availed themselves to the ARRL smartening-up methods.

No.

You've been "attacked" because you make irrational, unfounded, unsubstantiated claims about Amatuer Radio and then cry because you get your feelings hurt when people actually demand that you provide some form of validation for your wild assertions.

Well lookie lookie...Two lying, disrespectful, lazy child molesters back-slapping each other...

No..really guys...I don't think EITHER of you could muster up enough testosterone to be even close to being as sexually "mature" as a child let alone have your way forcibly. But at least Brain married a real woman who took his last name, so we can write him out of being homosexual".

However the lying, disrespectful and lazy parts seem to be pretty accurate. Neither of you have provided anything to prove otherwise.

And thanks, guys...Always enjoy watching the red hatted monkey dancing with the trained poodle...However it's tough to tell who's "leading".....

claiming that we child molestors

Ondeed the paragraph before this one you typed" Well lookie lookie...Two lying, disrespectful, lazy child molestors back-slapping each other... "

when you type and A is ture and Not a is true you must be lying

> But at least Brain married a so what you are saying is that If My wife and I had followed convention suddenly I not be a homosexual?

do you truly believe that tripe? I doubt it

OTOH what we see (me and the NG) are more proof you need to get a life all you can mange to spill your hate filled poison man that stuff will eat you up inside, and while that may eventualy kill you and put you out of my hair I'dprfer you get help and start feeling better (for the purely selfish reason it would get you out of my hair sooner not becuase I have but loathing and nausuea for for you) you could by coming clean and telling the truth (well maybe you can but I doubt it) like making the clear the statement you were lying when did a number of things:1 claimed I was a child molestor, 2 a rapist, 3 that I have HIV or any other STD, 4 that I have ever abused children 5 when you made the impleied that If I wereany of these it was relavant to RRAP, all of the above w.r.t. BB and Todd

No apolgy needed just tell the truth

Nope.

Read what HE wrote in order to understands what I wrote.

(Only Morkie would thing the ampersand is a pronoucable "sound".)

Not at all.

Most federal regulations are specifically written so that they can be understood by an eigth grader. This is a fact.

That you and Brain are having difficulty understanding them answers a lot of questions about your education levels.

Count of what days? How long you can do the RHM Two Step?

As for the validity of this thread as a "poll", it's about as accurate a "poll" as asking a stop sign for directions.

I think it was Jim, N2EY, who did the math and showed where the actual number of US licensed participants in the whole newsgroup represented less than 0.012% of the valid US licenesees (Sorry if it wasn't you, Jim....)

SO far, there's only been five correspondants in this thread. Two of whom represent 40% of the Feeble Five, neither of which have even a day's worth of experience or competency in any of the "courses" offered. If anyone here needed to answer in the affirmative on any of these issues, it was you two...

What's the "stae"...?!?! If you meant "state", perhaps it is, but what do YOU know of it? So far, your "knowledge" of the state of Amateur Radio has been trying to weasel out of the Code test for

I understand the ones you wrote with some confusion...

The confusion coming from YOUR use of the word "we"...

It had no place in that sentence.

Nope. Morkl Moron was NOT a part of the Katrina recovery.

Sure I did.

And again YOU used the word "we". YOU using the word WE in refrence to any participation in the Katrina recovery ahd no place.

Nope. I show YOU as a liar.

No...what I was responding to was YOUR use of the word 'we' and any suggestion that the Amateur Radio response to the recovery evolution was anything less than adequate.

There you go with the "we" again.

And Morkie...All those USN, USMC, USAF and USCG helos and hovering over New Orleans...were they NOT "government"...?!?!

Were the USN and USCG ships off the coast of New Orleans...Not government?

(1) I don't have to prove your sexual perversion. You've made the claim yourself.

(2) I can't speak for Dan, but I have NEVER stated that the fact that you're a disgraced liar and sexual pervert has anything to do with radio...It DOES have everything to do with CHARACTER, but that's for another thread.

BTW, Morkie...You claim I keep trying to hijack threads and make reference to your "sexaulty"...Yet here YOU are bringing it up AGAIN...

I told you before..Don't bring it up, it doesn't get discussed.

What "chest thumpers"...?!?!

So far, there's been nothing "negative" about the Amateur response to "discuss".

As far as the federal, state and local government responses go, those "discussions" ARE going on in a dispassionate manner in APPROPRIATE forums...

Which is to say forums from which Mork Moron and Brain Burke are either excluded or not invited due to thier lack of participation in the event to start with, and/or their lack of ANY experience in delivering the services that they feel compelled to pontificate about now.

Wrong, shemale loving faggot. Yours was posted, and you were outed for posting shemale pics. Roger's wasn't the only ip numbers posted, others' were as well. Like yours.

>As for posting > something, anyone with a text editor can make it look the way the want

You posted the shemale pics, pervert. You have the cartoon kiddie porn.

> it, I've been on the Internet a long time, back when it was ARPNET, so

You are lying, Toad.

> you aint fucking some dummy, dummy. I've NEVER posted on that website,

That's not what the admin says.

> Nor, do I Use a proxy as they claim,

You sure are defensive about it. I'd say you did post them. Through that proxy that tries to make you look like you are from Iceland. Funny how those posts use the same phrases you do, faggot Toad.

> as a matter of fact I can take a

Oh, you better stick with those pics of shemales you love so well, faggot.

>I've NEVER used a proxy,

Liar. You frequently use proxies, Mr. Iceland.

Yes, you do, Toad. Or shall I call you Newsguy? Everybody on there calls you Newsgay, which fits you so much better, faggot.

My, that's quite a fag fit you are having. Must mean what was said about you posting the shemale pics are true. Of course it is, since your ip numbers were outed as the one posting them.

You just posted to NIM at 4:38am EST to advertise your "blog." The proof is at http://the-forum.us/nimbusters/forum/read.php?board=8&id=98715

Now anyone who might have doubted it knows that you are a liar, just as Mark has been saying all along.

Oh, and that's a crude Icelandic blog you put up on blogspot. Real Icelanders will be offended, and they will get in touch with the Taylorville Icelanders Club. The club president will in turn contact your parents.

You'll probably be locked in your parents' basement for a month.
---(end quote)---

So there you go; click on the link immediately above and you can still read the NIM Busters post that you made last February.

you can't even get that right steve I want it gone for extra too but taking a postion on code testing does not limit my kowledge of the ARS

I know the demographics can't be seen as favorable (I think they are down right bad)
I knwo we are laughed in some cricles for still using Morse Code let alone testing for it

I know the FCC just said we were no more important to Homelannd

NIB BUSTERS: THE SCUM OF THE EARTH!!!

There is a new threat to the Internet, it's not U.S. Government trying to pass a law to suppress free speech. It's a message board on the internet that supports the ABUSIVE behavior of it members. Let me start at the beginning, I am an amateur radio operator, and I have on here and on the newsgroup rec.radio.amateur.policy discussed about Glenn Baxter K1MAN. A amateur radio operator who is hated by a number of people including Brain Crow K3VR, and one known both on the newsgroup and on NIM Busters Lloyd Davies (Baxter on the air put Davies on his "Nazi List"). Anyone apparently who "supports" K1MAN gets harassed and abused by these Anti-K1MAN PEOPLE. As I stated many times before I neither support K1MAN nor don't support him. I do have however, a deep concern over the FCC recent $21,000 fine. but I'll discuss that in a different post. I try to explain my objective side to the issue only to get harassed by amateur operators, but guess what they don't stop there they begin posting my callsign and name on different boards including gay boards and yes, NIM Busters. All for the purpose of harassment and abuse. Now All for free speech but Free speech doesn't cover abuse and harassment. The People on NIM Busters Believes that this person "Newsguy" is me and That I'm going through a proxy. First off I've never used a proxy, as a matter of fact I posted pictures of my Server proxy configuration on the Newsgroup. The people at NIM buster could also check with my service provider and they would also tell them that I'm not running a proxy. These abuses have become so bad that I have no choice but report it to the appropriate channels including the US Attorney General and file a law suit against NIM Buster for promoting this type of behavior. Again Free Speech DOES NOT protect abusive behavior. Plus, there is discussion board software out there were the administrator could remove a person if an abuse occurs, and he set up what names are not allowed. This would allow people the right to anonymous speech yet at the same time stop these kinds of abuses.....but are they using that software??? no and Why?? because the Admin of NIM Busters is the chief advocator of these abuses, hell just look at his blog.

"Raggeed aout"? That pretty well does away with your criticism of Mark Morgan. My car is a 2003. When I trade it in, I'll own a newer car. You can add that to your list of big news items. While you're at it, I use Bosch platinum plugs. That last item might be hot enough for the National Enquirer.

That's false information, UnWiseman. It has been pointed out to you that some are connected all of the time to Echolink. Some are connected part of the time. Some are never connected. So much for your game of "I'm not me".

That'd be "...pressure up; you'll have another stroke" or "...pressure

K1MAN BULLETIN - B060329A -

FCC ISSUES A "FORFEITURE ORDER" AGAINST K1MAN

The "Order" is attached below. What Now?

1. The FCC has declined to provide a requested hearing, and the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution requires a hearing and due process of law before they can collect a dime much less the "ORDERED" "fine" of $21,000. Even a traffic ticket gets a hearing, right?

2. Therefore, the next step for the FCC, by statute, is to now sue K1MAN for the claimed $21,000 in Federal District Court in Bangor, Maine where K1MAN would demand a trial by jury (trial de novo), subpoena witnesses (Hollingsworth, Boston Office Engineers, hams, etc.), file motions, etc. The FCC can't even bring such a suit, of course, because the minimum claim in Federal District Court is $50,000.

3. By statute, unresolved forfeiture matters such as above cannot be used in any other FCC proceeding such as K1MAN's pending renewal application.

4. By statute, K1MAN can and will continue to operate until the renewal application is finally decided including all appeals to the D.C. Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Bottom line is that the FCC is blowing phony legal smoke leading to Hollingsworth's 2006 Dayton "Special Achievement Award" which is not too bad for a guy who was sick on the day they taught law at law school. Wake Forest Law School should refund all of his hard earned money! Good luck in the contest!

FORFEITURE ORDER

Adopted: March 27, 2006 Released: March 29, 2006

By the Regional Director, Northeast Region, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

In this Forfeiture Order ("Order"), we issue a monetary forfeiture in the amount of twenty-one thousand dollars ($21,000) to Glenn A. Baxter ("Baxter"), licensee of Amateur Radio Station K1MAN, for willful and repeated violation of Sections 97.101(d) and 97.113(a)(3) of the Commission's Rules ("Rules"), for willful violation of Section 97.105(a) and 97.113(b) of the Rules, and for willful and repeated failure to file required information pursuant to an Enforcement Bureau ("Bureau") directive. The noted violations of the Rules involve interference with the ongoing communications of other Amateur radio stations, failure to exercise station control, transmission of communications in which Baxter had a pecuniary interest, and transmission of communications that constituted impermissible broadcasting.

II. BACKGROUND

In response to numerous complaints of deliberate interference caused by transmissions from Baxter's Amateur Radio Station K1MAN to ongoing radio communications of other amateur stations, the Bureau issued Warning Notices to Baxter on September 15, 2004 and October 29, 2004. Agents in the Commission's Boston Field Office ("Boston Office") subsequently conducted an investigation, including monitoring and inspecting Baxter's station and, as a result of the investigation, the Boston Office issued a Notice of Apparent Liability to Baxter on June 7, 2005, in the amount of twenty-one thousand dollars ($21,000).

In the NAL, the Boston Office found that Baxter apparently willfully and repeatedly violated Section 97.101(d) of the Rules, which states that "[n]o amateur operator shall willfully or maliciously interfere with or cause interference to any radio communication or signal." FCC agents observed Baxter's Amateur Radio Station K1MAN commence transmissions on top of existing communications on 3.890 MHz on November 27, 2004, December 8, 2004, and March 31, 2005.

The Boston Office further observed that Baxter apparently willfully and repeatedly violated Section 97.113(a)(3) of the Rules by transmitting, on November 25, 2004, and March 30, 2005, information regarding his website, which offers various products for sale, including a monthly newsletter published by Baxter and offered for sale for forty-five dollars per year. In addition, on December 1, 2004, Baxter transmitted a seventy-minute interview with a person who was considering whether to retain Baxter Associates, an employment-search firm owned by Baxter. During the transmission, Baxter discussed fees for his franchises, investments, and franchising opportunities. Section 97.113(a)(3) of the Rules prohibits an Amateur station from transmitting any communications in which the station licensee or control operator has a pecuniary interest.

The Boston Office also concluded that Baxter apparently willfully and repeatedly violated Section 308(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which provides that the Commission "during the term of any. . .licenses, may require from...a licensee further written statements of fact to enable it to determine whether such original application should be granted or denied or such license revoked . . . ." Baxter was directed in Warning Notices dated September 15 and October 29, 2004, to provide information regarding how station K1MAN was controlled and the identity of the control operator. The Boston Office found that Mr. Baxter's statements that "[n]o corrective actions are necessary" and "[n]o changes are needed with regard to station control" failed to comply with the Bureau's demand for station information.

Baxter also was found to have apparently willfully violated Section 97.113(b) of the Rules, which prohibits, with limited exceptions not applicable in this case, an Amateur station from engaging in any form of broadcasting or transmission of one-way communications. The Boston Office concluded that the pre-recorded seventy-minute interview with a person interested in retaining Baxter Associates, during which there was no station identification, constituted a "broadcast" and an impermissible one-way transmission.

The Boston Office further concluded that Baxter apparently willfully failed to exercise control over his station, as required under Section 97.105(a) of the Rules. On December 19, 2004, station K1MAN repeated the same pre-recorded phrase, and segments thereof, for 45 minutes on 3.975 MHz after which the transmissions ended abruptly in mid-sentence without the station identification required by the Rules.

Baxter submitted a reply on June 16, 2005 denying any liability for the forfeiture amount. Citing the Fifth and Sixth amendments to the United States Constitution, Baxter requests "all documentation regarding the alleged apparent liability and. . .a trial like hearing before the full Commission." Baxter notes that, although he previously has received three Notices of Apparent Liability, he has not been able to appeal those to the full Commission and therefore repeatedly has been denied access to "the Washington D.C. Court of Appeals in the pursuit of due process of law as guaranteed by the United States Constitution." Baxter does not submit any substantive responses to the apparent violations set forth in the NAL.

On July 18, 2005, REC Networks ("REC"), through its principal Rich Eyre, filed a Petition for Leave to File Amicus Pleading and an associated Motion for Partial Reconsideration or Declaratory Ruling. REC is concerned that the findings in the NAL regarding Baxter's apparent liability for violating Section 97.113(a)(3) of the Rules by transmitting references to his website could subject many amateur radio licensees to similar enforcement action merely for uttering a website address on their stations.

III. DISCUSSION

The forfeiture amount proposed in this case was assessed in accordance with Section 503(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended ("Act"), Section 1.80 of the Rules, and the Commission's Forfeiture Policy Statement and Amendment of Section 1.80 of the Rules to Incorporate the Forfeiture Guidelines. In assessing forfeitures, Section 503(b)(2)(D) of the Act requires that we take into account the nature, circumstances, extent and gravity of the violation and, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and such other matters as justice may require.

We decline to grant Baxter's request for a hearing. Section 503(b)(3)(A) of the Act states that "[a]t the discretion of the Commission, a forfeiture penalty may be determined against a person .. after notice and an opportunity for a hearing before the Commission or an administrative law judge...." Section 1.80(g) of the Rules states that procedures for hearings "will ordinarily be followed only when a hearing is being held for some reason other than the assessment of a forfeiture...." Accordingly, the "reference to a notice of opportunity for hearing mentioned in Section 1.80(g) of the Commission's Rules is a discretionary provision available to the Commission that is not normally utilized when only monetary forfeiture matters are involved." The Rule also states, however, that "these [hearing] procedures may be followed whenever the Commission, in its discretion, determines that they will better serve the ends of justice."

Baxter has not shown that there is any reason for us to follow anything but our ordinary procedures for monetary forfeitures or that a hearing "will better serve the ends of justice." Baxter received notice regarding the legal and factual bases for the apparent violations and proposed forfeiture and has been afforded an opportunity to respond

"why no such forfeiture penalty should be imposed." Although Baxter categorically claims no liability for the forfeiture, he has chosen not to present any specific exculpatory arguments or evidence in response to the violations set forth in the NAL. A licensee's decision to forego the opportunity to present exculpatory arguments and evidence in response to a NAL does not create a right to a hearing and, accordingly, we conclude that an evidentiary hearing is not required in this case.

We have examined Baxter's response to the NAL pursuant to the statutory factors above and in conjunction with the Policy Statement. As a result of our review, and based on the record before us, we conclude that Baxter willfully and repeatedly interfered with ongoing communications of other stations in violation of Section 97.101(d) of the Rules. We further conclude that Baxter willfully and repeatedly transmitted communications in which he had a pecuniary interest in violation of Section 97.113(a)(3) of the Rules. We find that Baxter willfully and repeatedly failed to file requested information pursuant to a Bureau directive. We further find that Baxter willfully engaged in broadcasting in violation of 97.113(b) of the Rules and willfully failed to exercise control of his station in violation of Section 97.105(a) of the Rules. Considering the entire record and the factors listed above, we find that neither reduction nor cancellation of the proposed $21,000 forfeiture is warranted.

Finally, we deny REC's Petition for Leave to File Amicus Pleading because we find no basis for consideration of the associated petition, either as a petition for reconsideration or as a petition for declaratory ruling. Although REC recognizes that it does not have standing to file pleadings in this proceeding, REC requests that we accept its Petition because it believes the findings in the NAL regarding references to websites on amateur radio stations may impact other amateur licensees. As a petition for reconsideration, REC's pleading is premature. A Notice of Apparent Liability is not a "final Commission action," which is a predicate for filing a petition for reconsideration under Section 1.106 of the Rules. Therefore, as a petition for reconsideration, REC's pleading will be dismissed with prejudice. In the alternative, REC requests that we treat the pleading as a petition for declaratory ruling. Because the petition seeks an interpretation of the Commission's Amateur Radio Service rules as they relate to website references on amateur radio stations, it is more appropriately addressed by the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, which is the Bureau responsible for implementing rules and policies with regard to the Amateur Radio Service. Accordingly, the petition for declaratory ruling will be dismissed without prejudice and may be re-filed with the Office of the Secretary in accordance with the procedures set forth in Part 1 of the Rules.

We take this opportunity to note, however, that the violation for which Baxter is being assessed a forfeiture is not the mere mention of a website. Baxter violated Section 97.113(a)(3) of the Rules because he has a direct pecuniary interest in the products offered for sale on the website about which he provided information on his amateur radio station.

IV. ORDERING CLAUSES

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to Section 503(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and Sections 0.111, 0.311 and 1.80(f)4) of the Rules, Glenn A. Baxter IS LIABLE FOR A MONETARY FORFEITURE in the amount of twenty-one thousand dollars ($21,000) for willfully and repeatedly failing to furnish information requested by the Bureau, willful and repeated violation of Sections 97.101(d)and 97.113(a)(3) of the Rules, and willful violation of Sections 97.105(a) and 97.113(b) of the Rules.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that REC Network's Petition for Leave to File Amicus Pleading IS DENIED and REC Network's Petition for Partial Reconsideration or Declaratory Ruling is in part DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE and in part DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE as set forth herein.

Payment of the forfeiture shall be made in the manner provided for in Section 1.80 of the Rules within thirty (30) days of the release of this Order. If the forfeiture is not paid within the period specified, that case may be referred to the Department of Justice for collection pursuant to Section 504(a) of the Act. Payment of the forfeiture must be made by check or similar instrument, payable to the order of the Federal Communications Commission. The payment must include the NAL/Acct. No. and FRN No. referenced above. Payment by check or money order may be mailed to Federal Communications Commission, P.O. Box 358340, Pittsburgh, PA 15251-8340. Payment by overnight mail may be sent to Mellon Bank /LB 358340, 500 Ross Street, Room 1540670, Pittsburgh, PA 15251. Payment by wire transfer may be made to ABA Number 043000261, receiving bank Mellon Bank, and account number 911-6106. Requests for full payment under an installment plan should be sent to: Associate Managing Director, Financial Operations, 445 12th Street, S.W., Room 1A625, Washington, D.C. 20554.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this Forfeiture Order shall be sent by Certified Mail, Return Receipt Requested, and regular mail, to Glenn A. Baxter at his address of record and to REC Networks at its address of record.

Ok, here's a question, Was K1MAN's transmissions directed to the general public, or were they directed to the Amateur Radio Service? You see for it to be consider a "broadcast" the transmission must be directed to the general public. If it's directed to the general public then it's Illegal, BUT, if it directed to the amateur radio community and consists of material of interest to the amateur radio service, then it's legal. One of the problems I have with amateur operators over this thing is that amateur believe that the content that is directed to the amateur radio service must be the same type of format as the ARRL bulletin. (a newscast) yet there is nothing in the rules or regulation that states that, nor is there a FCC order that states that either. It up to the station on how they want to disseminate the information. Section 326 of the Communication Act prohibits the FCC from "controlling the content of ANY radio station" So I would really like to know where it states it has to be a certain format. The next thing is Amateur's have to realize that one, 47CFR 97.3 (a)(25) and 47 CFR 97.111(b)(6) is here to pretty much to stay the last time some one tried to change them and was denied the FCC said they would not hear on the matter any more, Secondly, those two rules is not just for the ARRL, anyone may operate a information bulletin, just like anyone can run a beacon. As the FCC stated in their April of 2004 letter to Baxter and is also on their website "there is no time limit on information bulletins." So there is some real questions regard Baxter and the FCC.
1. was it directed to the general public or to the amateurs?
2. was this enforcement "content neutral"? (the FCC under the law is to make content neutral dissensions in regards to making rules and enforcement action.)
3. Should the FCC clarify the rules a little better?

the FCC has never had a legal leg to stand on in the K1MAN case, which is why the FCC cowards will never allow themselves to face Baxter if a court of law. How many times has Baxter already called Hollingsworth's bluff? The FCC management structure is corrupt and based on a culture of lies.

The "broadcasting" charge is but one of the issues and I think the NAL makes it fairly clear why Baxter's activities are not allowed while ARRL transmissions are. However, it doesn't matter that much because they are further charging him with not answering their technical questions about station control and who was the control operator during the observed violations and other things. Any one of these charges is enough for them to collect on the NAL and deny his renewal application. This argument is a straw man which the FCC has now clearly dismissed.

Do some rules need to be clarified? Perhaps. The FCC did recommend that REC re-file and use the proper procedure to get a clarification of the rules in this regard. I think I understand what the rules mean, and how the ARRL (and others) can do what they do and why Baxter's activites, as described in the NAL, is in violaton of the rules. If you don't see the differance, please ask the FCC to clarify, but it seems clear to me.

As to Baxter's claim that they cannot deny his pending application... I wouldn't bet on it. As I see it, these charges are now "confirmed" and from the FCC's perspective no longer pending. The wheels of the FCC may turn slowly, but they do turn. This would lead me to believe that the denial of his pending renewal application which is under review will be forthcomming. As I see it, the only question is how long will it take for them to collect the $21k.

Once they deny his pending application, and they will, things will get very interesting indeed. K1MAN will have no authority to operate and you can bet the FCC will be ready to deal with him if he does. Again, it may take awhile, but don't be fooled into thinking they won't act. Should he insist, I'm sure they will eventually pry the microphone out of his hands as they slip on the handcuffs. It could take a few years, but don't think it won't happen.

To Mr Baxter I say the following: Don't do it. You will only loose. Spare yourself, your family, the FCC and us. Just sell all your transmitting equipment so you are not tempted to transmit, pay the fine and get on with your life by finding another hobby. It is very unlikley that you will ever be granted another license so move on. You don't have to take my advice, but you really should consult a competent laywer, you are in trouble if you continue to push this adgenda.

A great man always wins in the end. Always.

....it's already Friday in Australia ;)

What's the scientific term for the condition wherein you find this sort of thing funny? I dunno, but I have it. I hung my head in shame while I clearly laughed at the teacher, cop and priest who caught me with it. I looked contrite BUT THEY KNEW BETTER!

QUOTE of the day:

have the key to is the shithouse." ~ William S. Burroughs

FUCK OWENS | 1929-2006
Singer Found Dead In His Own Vomit
By Randy Lewis, Leaky Times Parody Staff Writer
March 26, 2006

Fuck Owens, the Bakersfield rebel who brought a distinctly California flavor to country music in the 1950s and '60s and built a Central Valley-based multimedia empire belying his "Hee Haw"-bred porno persona, died Saturday. He was 76.

Owens died at his home in Bakersfield, said Jim Shaw, the family's pimp and longtime member of his Fuckaroos band. The cause of death was choking on his own vomit from a barbiturate overdose, and the country music giant who charted 21 No. 1 country singles from 1963 to 1988, among them "Act

Naturally," "I've Got a Harlot by the Titty" and "Sweet Poontang From Hell," had been in declining health for years after undergoing surgery for anal cancer in 1993.

Just hours before he died, Owens was on stage with a huge erection Friday night with the Fuckaroos singing at his $5-million Bakersfield nightclub and restaurant, Fuck Owens' Crystal Meth Palace, something he'd done routinely since opening it almost 10 years ago.

"He had come to the club early and had a chicken-fried steak dinner and bragged that it's his favorite meal," Shaw said. After dinner, Owens told band members he didn't feel up to performing and decided to drive home.

On his way to his car, fans on their way in told him that they had come from Jakarta, Indonesia, and that they were really looking forward to hearing him fart. Owens turned around and pooted. There were numerous chunks of chicken-fried steak in his drug-induced vomit, stated wetback mexican Bakersfield coroner Herbert 'Jesus' Valasquez.

"He mentioned that onstage: 'If somebody's come all that way, I'm gonna do the show and give it my best cum shot. I might groan and squeak and fart, but I'll see what I can do,' " Shaw said. "He died in his sleep - they figure it was about 4:30 [a.m.] - probably of choking on vomit. So he had his favorite meal, played a show, got laid, and died in his sleep. We thought, that's not too bad."

In the 1950s, when the music coming out of country capital Nashville was laden with swelling groins, swirling toilet water, and choirs of flatulent banshees, Owens put out stripped-down records that were part

Phuck Berry and part Shitboy Williams. His recordings jumped with stinging electric guitar work by his close friend and musical partner Don Rich, further punched up by an energetic electric vagina. Owens also greatly enjoyed those underground videos of Chuck Berry micturating on his many lady friends, as well as Berry's trend-setting guitar stylings.

"I don't think there have ever been two people in this business closer than Don and I," Owens said backstage after a rare L.A. performance at the House of Blues in 1998. "It's like we could read each other's minds."

The relationship was central to Owens' success, and when Rich was killed in 1974 in a an autoerotic strangulation accident, the loss was devastating. After Rich died, Owens recorded sporadically, but famously came out of his self-imposed retirement and landed his final No. 1 hit in 1988 with "Suck My Flailing, Turgid Fleshpipe, Bitch." That duet paired him with Blight Yo Cum, one of many younger-generation country stars who sang his praises, in part hoping to undo some of the damage inflicted on his musical credibility by his years playing a passive fem in gay porno loops exhibited for decades in some of the more seedy joints around Times Square.

"What a musical motherfucker," said Chris Hillman, a veteran of California rock, country and folk music as a member of the Tyrds, the Farting Burrito Brothers and the Clitoral Climax Blues Band. "His music had so much norteño and Tex-Mex poop in it. It had such a California influence that Nashville never had....

"That put the state of California on the map. Not better, just different. It had more pussy," Hillman said Saturday. "There was a regional difference, and the different music that was out here - 90% of which was Hispanic, especially in Central California - filtered right into their stuff."

Robert Hilburn, former pop music critic at The Times, spouted his usual inconsequential, pompous nonsense.

"Owens and his indispensable musical partner Don Rich embraced the energy and exuberance of the porno sound," Hilburn said. "Even after all these years, it's hard to listen to one of his sex moans without joining in."

Nashville also had few country musicians with the business savvy to own their master recordings, as Owens did, wresting them from Capitol Records in the 1970s after a legal battle. The victory gave him, rather than the record company, control over how his recordings would be released in the future. In the 1990s, when Garth Brooks was infamously involved in a sex scandal involving a number of tranvestites, he sought Owens' counsel. The elder musician told him to go "fuck himself sideways".

Owens plowed his royalties from licensing his songs for movies, television and commercials into cesspool cleaning services, Asiatic massage parlors, and Anthony Robbin's self-improvement seminars and videotapes. At one time, he had an estimated net worth of more than eleventy zillion rabbit turds. A 1992 Worth magazine survey of the bitchiest people in the top 100 U.S. metropolitan areas put Owens at No. 1 in Bakersfield.

"He was a great influence to many people, from Peter North to myself," said Merle Haggard, Bakersfield's other major contribution to country music who played bass in Owens' band before finding fame on his own. "Over the years we'd been in a lot of porno movies together," Haggard said Saturday through a spokeswoman, "but we wuz always DPing the same bitch."

Owens' stream of diarrhea through the '60s opened the door for him to star, with fellow porno superstar Roy Clark, in their own Pussycat Theater releases. The series' corny humor and stereotyped images of rural life and people ran counter to the creative freshness of Owens' recordings and contributed strongly to Owens' fall from the charts in the '70s.

"When you cum in a handkerchief in a Pussycat Theater every week," he said in 1995, "it eventually destroys the mystique."

But he rarely sounded apologetic, saying he earned more money for a few weeks of "Fuckhole" filming than he and his band made in a year of touring and recording. "Many whores copulate for money, baby, whoa, are you one of them?" inquired Owens of his many cynical detractors.

"Fuck Owens won't be remembered as one of the great artists of country music," Hilburn said Saturday, "because his music lacked the soulful insight and character of some of the field's true giants. But he will be remembered because his music was so superbly crafted that they still make your emotions soar."
But then again, who gives a fuck what pompous ass Robert Hilburn says?

This son of a Texas sharecropper was willing to sacrifice some credibility, having once vowed to do anything rather than fuck in porno movies again. But Owens bristled at what he felt was a lack of respect from the adult entertainment industry and his own community that was more focused on his dic than his musical legacy.

Alvis Edgar (Fuck) Owens was born Aug. 12, 1929, barely two months ahead of the stock market crash, in Sherman, Texas, a town of 1,500. Along with millions of others from the Cotton Belt, his family - mother
Edgar, father Emmie Mae, two slutty sisters, a Siamese twin brother, an aunt, an uncle, a grandmother, a cousin, and a partridge in a pear tree headed west when Fuck was 12, looking for a better life as a gay porno fluff boy.

They moved from one town in Arizona to another, and spent several years in Mesa. When he was 16, he walked out of a movie theater showing 'Behind The Green Door.' "I wasn't going to watch that movie," he told High Times Magazine in 1985. "I'd already lived the damn thing."

Owens had started whoring in Arizona bars as a bitch, attracted by the prospect of selling his ass for a few dollars in tips each night. It was in Mesa that he met singer Bonnie Campbell, whom he fucked in 1948.

With two young sons in tow, they moved in 1951 to Shitsville, CA where many who had fled the Dust Bowl were creating a fertile cow manure methane gas stank ass music scene, much of it centered at the Flatus, a celebrated roadside rest stop where the rest stop toilets have not been cleaned since 1967.

He also played guitar with another Bakersfield singer, Tommy Collins, on Collins' 1953 hit "You Better Not Do That." One of the early recordings
Owens made on his own, "Hot Dog," came out in 1956, just as Elvis Presley's name was becoming known nationally. Owens put "Hot Dog" out under the name Corky Jones in an attempt not to alienate country music fans who might not approve of his record's more energetic and upbeat rockabilly sound.

About that time he also decided to try out a new type of guitar that allowed his playing to cut through the din at the Blackboard. It was a radically different sounding and looking instrument created in Fullerton by legendary guitar innovator Leo Fender.

Owens was among many Bakersfield musicians who field-tested Fender's solid-body electric guitars, instruments that quickly became integral to California country music for their affordability, durability and clean, bright, twangy sound. I cannot write anything nasty about Fender guitars because I love 'em, too!

He also began writing his own songs, one of which, "Second Fiddle," gave him his first chart hit, reaching No. 24 in 1959. Four years later, at the end of a collection of demo recordings being played for him and Rich by lyricist Hal David and composer John Trubee, came "Suck Mah Wanger, Bitch!"

"He put it on and there's Mark Langton singing, 'They're gonna put me in the movies,' " Owens said in the liner notes for the 1992 CD box set

"The Fuck Owens Collection. "And I loved that song. I wanted it right then.
It's a real corny piece of shit."

It became his first No. 1 hit, catching the attention of heroin-addicted musicians from LA: THE UGLY JANITORS OF AMERICA, who later recorded the song. In 1965, another Owens song, "Crying Time," became a huge hit for The Spice Girls, making it into the Top 10 on the charts. (..and really who the fuck cares?)

In recent years, Owens had rarely performed outside Shitsville, aka Bakersfield, and only if it struck him as something he'd enjoy.
"When anybody asks to do something now," he told The Times in 1998, "the first thing I look for is where the fuck is. If it's there, then I'll sell my ass for a few bucks."

Owens is survived by three sons, Buddy Alan, a lying son of a bitch gangster, and meth addict Michael, both from his short first marriage to Bonnie, and Johnny, from his second marriage to Phyllis, whom he divorced. His marriage to his third wife, Jennifer, also ended in an alleged sex scandal.

Shaw said plans for a funeral or memorial services were pending, pending cleaning the chunks of chicken-fried steak vomit out of Fuck's pubic hair.

You bet I will...I don't bullshit about this...there is software out there that NIM Buster could use to stop these abuses and allow them to block names and at the same time allow people to be anonymous. so if there is a abuse, which is happening here the administrator could remove the problem. Instead we have a administrator who condones these behaviors and abuses. But you believe me...watch me :)

So... I take it you don't agree? Fine with me if you don't.

But let's watch and see what happens. Eventually we will all know who was right.

Like I said, don't take the seemingly slow pace of this as an indication of the eventual outcome. Having observed the workings of government, it may be slow, but it does eventually get the job done.

The FCC with all it's problems will eventually deal with Mr Baxter. It will take awhile yet, but they will deal with him just like they are dealing with Jack Garretson who is sitting in jail right now and faces FCC imposed fines too. You know it's sorta funny that he used a lot of the same arguments I hear used to justify K1MAN's position and it seems that they will have about the same impact.

And, just as an aside.. My IP is quite safe, I assure you.

I suppose when this is over, we all can decide who wins, Baxter or the FCC.

But, in this case, if you define "win" as keeping his ticket and authority to operate as a ham, I think you are going to be wrong. Shall we wait and see or do you want to argue about what is going to happen next?

What is the goal here? To spit in the face of the FCC? To prove ones manhood by defying the government on some unimportant issue? Where is the substance of Baxter's arguments? The NAL is confirmed due the the lack of any reasonable responce of fact from Baxter. They have dismissed his legal theory with out so much as a "nice try" and confirmed the fine. What's next? Court for sure, but how do you think that will go? (See the Garritson case for an example if you want.)

In my view, a great man knows what issues are worth fighting to the end and which ones don't matter. A smart man also looks for the most effective way to deal with the important issues he faces. Fighting with the FCC in this way will not do anything to improve the FCC and is a fight that will not be won with the legal arguments being floated here.

Don't get me wrong, Glenn, I'm really on your side, but you have some legal misconceptions. Consider this post as "playing devil's advocate", if you desire. I really am trying to help you.

"The FCC has declined to provide a requested hearing, and the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution requires a hearing and due process of law before they can collect a dime much less the "ORDERED" "fine" of $21,000. Even a traffic ticket gets a hearing, right?"

ANSWER: You weren't denied due process because, in your responses to the NAL, you deliberately refused to answer the questions you were asked. Therefore you raised no substantial or material questions of law or fact that required a hearing. A hearing is only required when substantial and material issues of law or fact are raised by the pleadings. [See, for example, Title 47 USC Sec. 309(e), which deals with license applications.] This is also why, for example, a court can grant a demurrer or a motion for summary judgment in a civil case and deny a litigant his right to trial. This is just another way of saying you don't have the right to a hearing in the abstract; there has got to be a reason for holding one. Also, you are going to get a hearing before the U.S. District Court, so you can't claim you are being denied a hearing.

"Therefore, the next step for the FCC, by statute, is to now sue K1MAN for the claimed $21,000 in Federal District Court in Bangor, Maine where K1MAN would demand a trial by jury (trial de novo), subpoena witnesses (Hollingsworth, Boston Office Engineers, hams, etc.), file motions, etc. The FCC can't even bring such a suit, of course, because the minimum claim in Federal District Court is $50,000."

ANSWER: That's incorrect. First, the monetary jurisdictional minimum has now been raised to $75,000.00, but it only applies to diversity jurisdiction cases. The Forfeiture Order enforcement action will instead be a federal question jurisdiction case, to which the monetary jurisdictional minimum doesn't apply.

In addition, bob_d@yahoo.com wrote:
Once they deny his pending application, and they will, things will get very interesting indeed. K1MAN will have no authority to operate and you can bet the FCC will be ready to deal with him if he does.

ANSWER: Nope. Title 47 of the USC, Sec. 307(c)(3) says he has the right to continue operating until his appeal from the possible denial of his renewal is finally decided.

Well.. Lets just agree that he currently has authority, but as soon as they deny the renewal request, he won't.

I think the NoL makes it fairly clear that the FCC is going to do just that. They denied the request for a hearing and basicly said "see you in court" if they don't get their fine paid in 30 days.

Baxter has a choice.. Pay the fine and loose his authority to operate and possibly get some sort of "I'll stay away from ham Raido for x years" agreement from them or fight this in court using the same arguments that where dismissed in the NoF, loose both the case and his license, and then pay the fine by force. Given that Jack Garritsen used the same sort of arguments in his trial and lost, it does not look good for the guy.

Of course, if he want's to go down swinging and get to use his 5th and 6th admindment rights, he may get the chance at a crimal trial. But I don't think we are very close to that yet. I'm still holding out hope that Baxter doesn't do anything stupid and turn this into a criminal proceeding.

Sorry, I was inaccurate in my statements when I left out the appeal process.. As you said, when his renewal application is decided and Baxter appeals (which he will), and IF the appeal does not reverse the decision (which seems likely) THEN he will loose his authority to operate.

So, if my understanding of the process here is correct, the events go as follows:

1. Renewal Application is timely filed (Already done)
2. Application is set-aside for review (Already done)
3. The Review determines that the application will be denied (Pending now)
4. The decision to deny is appealed (Not done yet, must be done after denial)
5. The Appeal causes a hearing where the decision to deny is argued
6. The appeal hearing is decided

So, if you assume that the FCC will deny the application and Baxter will appeal the decision, then he will retain his authority to operate until the outcome of the hearing.

Am I correct?

Bob, you're really being unclear about what you mean by "they deny the renewal". The point of 47 USC Sec. 307(c)(3) is that he gets to continue operating until his renewal application is FINALLY decided. This means decided by the courts. Whom do you mean by "they"?

Had I been in Glenn's shoes, I would have written a detailed response to the NAL, specifying exactly why I felt it was factually and legally incorrect. Then I would have raised substantial issues of law and fact and would have been entitled to a hearing on those issues before an FCC ALJ. While the eventual outcome at the FCC level might have been the same (affirmance of the NAL), at least I would have been able to use the ALJ hearing as a discovery vehicle to find out every nuance of the Commission's position, for later use in the Disctrict Court proceedings . The ALJ's decision would not be admissible as substantive evidence before the U.S. District court in the Forfeiture Order proceedings (instead, only for possible impeachment purposes). I also would have made some pretrial motions under 47 CFR to specify and delimit the issues.

You can't compare Garritsen's case with Baxter's. Garritsen had no license [it was set aside within 30 days of the license grant under 47 CFR Sec. 1.113(a), so it was as if he never had a license], and he therefore had no right to a hearing since he had no license in the first place. Baxter has a valid license for which renewal is being denied. This is governed by 47 CFR 1.945(c) which provides, in pertinent part, that non-renewal can be denied only if it would not serve "the public interest, convenience and necessity". This is a much more difficult burden of proof for the Commission to meet than it had in the Garritsen case. Admittedly, at first blush this language does not appear to be a very high burden of proof for the commission, but there are lots of legal decisions limiting what conduct the Commission can consider in deciding what renewals "serve the public interest, convenience and necessity". I sure hope Glenn hires a good communications lawyer.

Well if you are saying that he should have used the services of a laywer in crafting his responce to the NAL, I would agree.

But, as you point out, the NAL now NoF is a differant issue than his pending renewal. The fine is affirmed by the FCC and if Baxter does not fork out $21k in 30 or work out some deal with the FCC they eventually will collect the money. That issue is now a done deal, it's just a matter of time. How much time will be largely up to Mr. Baxter. He can easily drag this out.

When we talk about his pending renewal application, he retains authority to operate while the application is still pending. Once it is fully denied, he will loose his authority. Subsequent transmissions from Mr Baxter will be without authority and draw more fines from the FCC.

You say there is an appeal process here and I can only defer to you on that. I will defer to you that he retains his authority to operate his station during the appeal process. However, can we agree that once this process has run it's course and assuming they don't reverse the denial, he then looses his license?

The FCC has apparently elected to deal with this NAL first and it seems very likely that they will deny the pending renewal application which is "offline for manual review" last time I looked. I suspect that they will use the NAL as part of their justification. Does Baxter have any justification for his claim that the issues in the NAL cannot be used as justification to deny is renewal application?

What you say is correct. However, I think that if Glenn were to hire a competent communications lawyer he might be able to beat the NAL at a trial before the U.S. District Court. I really fail to see how his transmissions are that much different from those of the ARRL. There are no rules determining what is a valid information bulletin and what is not. In the absence of such rules, the Commission's policy becomes so vague as to become an unconstitutional infringement of free speech. But these issues need to be properly briefed and tried before the U.S.D.C., and so far Glenn hasn't shown that he is willing or able to do so.

Well.. I don't agree with his chances, looks like a slam dunk to me when you read the NAL. I also don't agree that the ARRL's actions are comparable to Mr. Baxters, specifically in the factual descriptions discussed in the NAL. I also don't agree that "somebody else did it too" is a valid argument.

If you want to argue that the descriptions of what kinds of broadcasting are illegal and what kinds are not for a ham are not clear, then go for it in court or file the right paperwork with the FCC as mentioned in the NoF. But this has nothing to do with the ARRL. Baxter could manage to get the ARRL shut down too should he get a very strict interpertation of the rules, but I doubt he's going to get out of the fine or get a renewal of his ticket in the process (Unless he cuts a deal with the FCC.)

However... I do agree that he's going to loose for sure without a good laywer. Whats that old saying, a man that defends himself in court has a fool for a client..

But can you address my last question.. Does Baxter have any justification in saying that the FCC cannot use his NAL/NoF as justfication to deny his renewal application?

The short answers:

1. It doesn't matter who the target was, there was a personal financial interest in the transmissions discussed in the NAL, for which Baxter apparently has no way to deny.
2. Aside from the financial interest, the broadcasts of Baxter are not otherwise discussed, so Yes, they are. (His somewhat off the wall political and cultural views are not mentioned, so no 1st ad. rights issues here..)
3. Perhaps they should. The rules seem clear to me, but apparently not to everybody. You want to shut down the ARRL broadcasts? Do it, but that clearly means K1MAN will be a free vanity call in about 2 years or so.

I wonder if a jury of his peers would agree with his arguments? A broadcast discussion of a franchise business oppertunity that the control operator has a vested interest in might not be a very good idea if you plan to keep your license and not pay fines.

Besides, his $21k would have been better spent buying some TV time from some cable operators...

1. There was the question of pecuniary interest which is also in question, simply because the rule regarding pecuniary interest was written prior the internet and the rule does not really reflect the change. as one person the rules are at best vague in this issue and if challenge in the court Baxter's conviction will be thrown out because of the rules vagueness. (that's if baxter gets a real lawyer and not play one)
2. Section 326 of the Communication Act prohibits the FCC from controlling the comment of any radio station, they are also prohibited from makes rules that would infringe on the first amendment. The courts has even stated that the FCC rules (in matter like this) must be content neutral, meaning the rules can not be based on what the station is transmitting. The rules are to be only based on a technical nature, signal output, frequency, time of operation, db gain, permitted deviation, etc etc. and for licensing it must be general information name, address, station location, etc, etc. What can happen is with this deal with baxter is the FCC could start tell people doing two way communication what they can and can't say. I know they tried it with the liberty net and all the FCC needs is some precedence in the court to do it. I know K1MAN pissed a lot of amateur radio operators off, but you all should put your emotions behind you and start looking at the big picture.

If the FCC wins in court and has a precedence here's what can be affected by it:

1. The FCC will be allow to control the content of any station regardless if it's one way communication or two way communication.
2.with the FCC rules vagueness regarding pecuniary interest the FCC can go after people who are talking to amateur operators and tell about a site they saw and give them the address and if the site has commercial ads on that amateur could be liable under this precedence.

Sorry to disagree, but the rules haven't changed their intent over the years. You simply cannot use ham radio to help line your pockets. According to the FCC, that's what he did.

Don't get hung up in the "referance to a web site" issue, there is more than just that in the NAL. Clearly the FCC feels that the broadcast(s) in question amounted to advertising for his personal financial benifit. Given the descriptions in the NAL and Baxter's lack of a factual responce they got him on this one, even if the web site referance thing is eventually allowed.

The FCC CAN dictate content on broadcast stations and does. Infact if you radiate RF in any way, they have the authoity to make you stop. They regularly hand out fines for such things. (A certin football half time show comes to mind here.) However that begs the question of what they have to say about ham radio... Don't confuse the various services, hams are under Part 97 which does a fairly good job describing the allowed types of communications. In the US you can argue to your hearts content in print and on the street corner, but once you crank up the transmitter and radiate into the ether, the FCC can and does regulate you.

Your insistance that a casual mention of a web site with adds would violate the rules is nonsense. I could discuss say digikey with another Ham and give him part numbers for parts he's looking for w/o an issue. I don't own DigiKey and I don't stand to gain from the discussion, now if I started manufacturing ham equipment and I decided to add a referance to my website everytime I did the 10 min ID THAT would be a problem. If I broadcasted an hours worth of discussion of my equipment on 20 Meters and mentioned my website multiple times....

Perhaps you don't... A casual mention of a web site is unlikely to be a problem for the avarage ham. Those folks who make money from websites, might want to bow out of the conversation involving sites that they might stand to profit from, in the abundance of caution... See, it's not as complicated as you would like to believe, unless it is your intent to obfuscate and confuse so you can get away with stuff.

So which is it? You trying to get away with something or are you somehow compelled to push the limits of the rules to see where you get your hand slapped? Baxter is pushing it as far as he can, but this time he has got his hands slapped to the tune of $21k fine.

Such nonsense I have not seen since my kids where very young...

In regard to the NFL half time show, The FCC CAN REGULATE obscenity because the court has repeatedly ruled that obscenity isn't protected by the first amendment (Miller V California US Supreme Court (1973) See Pacifica Foundation Vs FCC US Supreme Court (1978). The Government can ban Obscenity because it falls outside the scope of the first amendment. Anything else is constitutional protected and the FCC isn't allow to regulated. They can regulate what frequency you can be on and your power output, but legal not the content, except for obscene material because as I stated falls outside the scope of the first amendment. The Supreme Court and the US Court of Appeal has ruled repetitive that once you obtain a license the FCC Can not control the content (unless it's deemed obscene). Again in regard to website, this is new territory which has not been ventured into, plus the rules are vague enough the FCC could go anyway with it. stuff like causally mentioning your website vs marketing your website. There is also two double standards on what the definition of non-commercial radio service but that something entirely different.

Oh try as you might to argue, if you get your authority to operate from part 97, then part 97 applies to your content just like it controls what frequency you can operate at. Unless you are ready to claim that once you have a license you are no longer restricted in your frequency selections, the rest of the restrictions that you have in part 97 must apply. So I can run wide band FM phone on 75 Meters now? I think not.

As un constitutional as it may seem to you this is not a valid argument.

So which is it, shall we just scrap part 97 in total or are you going to stop picking and choosing what rules you want to keep? You cannot have it both ways.

Let me illistrate it this way... Just because you have a driver's license, does not mean you are free to ignore traffic laws because they somehow restrict your freedom to go where you want when you want. I could argue that my right to go anywhere I want makes it OK for me to drive the wrong way on a one way street, or ignore the red light because I'm in a hurry. Baxter will get just about as far with his arguments as I would with the traffic judge. Affirmed fines for all.

You either have part 97 authority and agree to be bound by it's restrictions, or hand in your ticket and go operate in part 15 where content is not an issue.

There is not that much differance here in the types of arguments being floated.. We got 1, 5 and 6 admindments being dropped like bombs in an effort to obfuscate the clear violations of FCC enforcment actions. Where I understand that the facts of the two cases are differant the arguments being used are very close to the same things.

Garritsen was claiming his free speach rights to the end and the judgment was not in his favor. Baxter seems to be making the same claims and will get the same results. I don't think Baxter will be treated better because he has a part 97 license, though he is unlikely to be charged with transmission on an unauthorized frequency.

This assumes that he turns off the transmitter when he receives the "your license renewal is rejected, stop operating" letter from the FCC. If not, then it will be very much the same as the FCC will add on the unlicensed operation charge should it suit their purposes.

K1MAN
Here's some talking point that I wrote on QRZ, regarding K1MAN and his recent $21,000 dollar fine

>From QRZ:

"The problem is that these thing he has been found guilty for by FCC has never been challenged in the courts and I would bet anything if he got a good lawyer that the court would through it all out, except for the interference. Because the Court of Appeal and the US Supreme Court has stated the FCC rules must be content neutral, meaning they can't base their rules on content. The only content they can ban is obscenity because the US Supreme Court had stated in Miller v California and in Pacifica Foundation v FCC that obscenity falls outside the scope of the first amendment and thus can be banned. Apart from that anything else falls with the scope of the First Amendment.
As for Pecuniary Interest the problem with that is the Amateur radio service is a "non-commercial radio service" and the general definition of a non-commercial radio service is a radio service that can't make a profit from what they do on the radio. They can however make money to sustain the station. The problem there seems to be is now there is two definitions regarding none commercial radio, one for the amateurs and one for all the other radio service so the court would probably question the FCC on that if it is brought up. Next is the question regarding direct or indirect pecuniary interest, amateur's can not make money direct or indirect. This rule is sole vague that the question would be how is the FCC allowed to go to stop "indirect" pecuniary interest. For example the FCC could after a club for having a hamfest to help pay for the clubs licensed repeater or club station if they wanted too. Direct interest on the other hand is well defined because it means your make money directly off the radio transmission. There is limit on how far the FCC can go in regard to indirect pecuniary interest, however it's well defined. The next thing is pecuniary interest in regards to announcing websites. The pecuniary interest rules were written long before the advent of the internet and perhaps the rules need to be changed to address that issue.
This whole thing is going to opening a can of worms that hadn't been touched for a long long time. Now it might be for the good and it might be for the bad, either way if he challenges the rules we might be in for a rude awaking. But then again this baxter, he's really smart enough to get a real lawyer and challenge the rules accordingly."

"Not true, The courts has ruled (including the US Supreme Court) repetitive that once you obtain a license you have the right to free speech. "a person does not have a first amendment right to use a radio facility without a license" Red Lion Broadcasting v FCC (1969) and US court of Appeal reinstated that comment in Dunifer v FCC (1998) Dunifer was a pirate radio operator who didn't apply for a license or a waiver and the court ruled that since he never applied for a license or a waiver he didn't have the right to run a radio station. There are other rules as well Section 326 of the Communication Act of 1934 states that the FCC can not control the content of any station, it also prohibits the FCC from making rules that would infringe on the First Amendment. The US Court of Appeal has also stated that the FCC rules must be "Content Neutral" meaning they cannot be based on what the station is transmitting, the rules must be of technical nature and there has been many FCC rules in the past that has been struck down by the courts for violating the content neutral rule. The problem here is Amateur don't know that because no amateur rules like information bulletin / broadcasting and pecuniary interest has ever been challenged in the courts. This is really something new in the amateur radio service."

This one was in respond to the Anti-K1MAN people bashing people for criticizing them and disagreeing with them.

"I'm not the president of anyone club, K1MAN or anyone else. The difference between me and you all is I don't get my emotion roughed up for something as stupid as ham radio; I HAVE A LIFE outside this HOBBY. K1MAN
Here's some talking point that I wrote on QRZ, regarding K1MAN and his recent $21,000 dollar fine

>From QRZ:

"The problem is that these thing he has been found guilty for by FCC has never been challenged in the courts and I would bet anything if he got a good lawyer that the court would through it all out, except for the interference. Because the Court of Appeal and the US Supreme Court has stated the FCC rules must be content neutral, meaning they can't base their rules on content. The only content they can ban is obscenity because the US Supreme Court had stated in Miller v California and in Pacifica Foundation v FCC that obscenity falls outside the scope of the first amendment and thus can be banned. Apart from that anything else falls with the scope of the First Amendment.
As for Pecuniary Interest the problem with that is the Amateur radio service is a "non-commercial radio service" and the general definition of a non-commercial radio service is a radio service that can't make a profit from what they do on the radio. They can however make money to sustain the station. The problem there seems to be is now there is two definitions regarding none commercial radio, one for the amateurs and one for all the other radio service so the court would probably question the FCC on that if it is brought up. Next is the question regarding direct or indirect pecuniary interest, amateur's can not make money direct or indirect. This rule is sole vague that the question would be how is the FCC allowed to go to stop "indirect" pecuniary interest. For example the FCC could after a club for having a hamfest to help pay for the clubs licensed repeater or club station if they wanted too. Direct interest on the other hand is well defined because it means your make money directly off the radio transmission. There is limit on how far the FCC can go in regard to indirect pecuniary interest, however it's well defined. The next thing is pecuniary interest in regards to announcing websites. The pecuniary interest rules were written long before the advent of the internet and perhaps the rules need to be changed to address that issue.
This whole thing is going to opening a can of worms that hadn't been touched for a long long time. Now it might be for the good and it might be for the bad, either way if he challenges the rules we might be in for a rude awaking. But then again this baxter, he's really smart enough to get a real lawyer and challenge the rules accordingly."

speech. "a person does not have a first amendment right to use a radio facility without a license" Red Lion Broadcasting v FCC (1969) and US court of Appeal reinstated that comment in Dunifer v FCC (1998) Dunifer was a pirate radio operator who didn't apply for a license or a waiver and the court ruled that since he never applied for a license or a waiver he didn't have the right to run a radio station. There are other rules as well Section 326 of the Communication Act of 1934 states that the FCC can not control the content of any station, it also prohibits the FCC from making rules that would infringe on the First Amendment. The US Court of Appeal has also stated that the FCC rules must be "Content Neutral" meaning they cannot be based on what the station is transmitting, the rules must be of technical nature and there has been many FCC rules in the past that has been struck down by the courts for violating the content neutral rule. The problem here is Amateur don't know that because no amateur rules like information bulletin / broadcasting and pecuniary interest has ever been challenged in the courts. This is really something new in the amateur radio service."

This one was in respond to the Anti-K1MAN people bashing people for criticizing them and disagreeing with them.

"I'm not the president of anyone club, K1MAN or anyone else. The difference between me and you all is I don't get my emotion roughed up for something as stupid as ham radio; I HAVE A LIFE outside this HOBBY. What I've seen and what abuses I've taken by some of the people who signed that "petition against K1MAN" it seems to me that amateur operators are too emotion on this issue and this is a PERSON VENDETTA against K1MAN by those people. And whoever even questions the issue gets branded a president or a fan and these people goes after those people who ask questions, like they've gone after me. So you admit being into beastiality, pervert Morgan. I suppose you are just illiterate for a reason. Who said anything about being anti-Scottish? You are desperately grasping for straws.

More than you, QUITE obviously!

Please, Morkie, show me ALL of YOUR recently published comments in Amateur Radio journals...?!?! I can count at least four of mine in the last 4 months addressing REAL Amateur Radio issues...Not the tit-for-tat that transpires here.

> again steve how my sexaul orientation a proper subject for this NG Again, Morkie, why do YOU complain about others discussing sexual issues yet you bring it into almost EVERY thread you post in!

You're a sexual deviate and everyone here knows it...The ONLY one who won't let anyone forget you're a deviate is YOU!

> > So far, your "knowledge" of the state of

So you're a DOUBLE weasel. My bust.

> ARS

I could care less about your "position" on the Code issue. And your "kowledge" on almost all Amateur Radio related discussions has been proven, BY YOU, to be zilch-point-squat.

The REST of your comments about Amateur Radio have been so assinine, ignorant, poorly expressed and just so plain stupid as to make one wonder how you get through your day without drowning in a glass of water.

> I know the demographics can't be seen as favorable (I think they are > down right bad)

What demographics?

Show me some verifyable numbers. What's your sample pool?

> I knwo we are laughed in some cricles for still using Morse Code let > alone testing for it

By whom?

Certainly not any of the federal agencies that have been lauding us in the Federal Register lately.

Certainly not by the American Red Cross, Salvation Army, etc etc etc.

The onlyn ones "laughing" are those standing on the outside looking in!

> I know the FCC just said we were no more important to Homelannd > security than Taxi drivers

How's that?

And what do YOU know about "Homelannd security"...???

WHY should they take Amateur Radio into this new agency? How would we be of any greater service under this different umbrella?

Here's MY point of view: There's already ENOUGH bureaucratic crap for them to worry about in organizing "homeland defense" without having to administer the Amateur Service.

We have already PROVEN that when the malodorous human solid waste strikes the electrically operated air circulating device in an agrevious manner, we can respond, and respond in style.

"Homeland defense" wasn't even a topic of conversation on September 10th, 2001, yet on September 11th Amateur Radio stepped up and carried itself with style and professionalism for WEEKS after the attacks. So said FEMA, the NY OEM, the Govermor of the State of New York, and countless others.

We were doing it for DECADES before Spetember 11th 2001, and we've been doing it consistently since. The kudos since Katrina/Rita prove.

3547. The weeekly FAQ - What Is Ham Radio?

A necessary preface.....

(It is becoming increasingly difficult to fly the flag for decency and for civilised behaviour in Radio Hammery. Even the Usenet newsgroups dedicated to the cause have degenerated into a hotbed of abusive onslaughts by those who ought to know better; the Nugatory Numpties who boast of an interest exceeding 10, 20, 30, 40 or even 50 years and yet who have proved themselves incapable of even meeting the trivial exam standards set for 6-year-olds. However, there still exists the fundamental basis on which Ham Radio is based, and that will never die. This FAQ ("What Is Ham Radio?") will be regularly published and will not be shouted or bullied down. It is important that those of a technical bent, who are the natural seed-corn of Radio Hammery and who gravitate towards us to be the real novitiate, can still find us, (and know that we are still here), their fellows.)

-----ooooo-----

So,.....What is Ham Radio?

Ham Radio is a technical pursuit for those who are interested in the science of radio wave propagation and who are also interested in the way that their radios function. It has a long-standing tradition of providing a source of engineers who are born naturals.

Ham Radio awakens in its aficionados a whole-life fascination with all things technical and gives an all-abiding curiosity to improve one's scientific knowledge. It's a great swimming pool, please dive in!

This excitement causes a wish to share the experience with ones fellow man, and shows itself in the gentlemanly traditions of Ham Radio.

Radio Hams are in a unique privileged position in that they can construct and operate their own equipment! No-one else has this privilege. Users, such as broadcasters, the po lice and armed farces, CBers and mobile phone users have to purchase ready-made gear. Manufacturers are not licensed to operate their gear. Radio Hams are qualified to design, build and then operate their own pieces of equipment. They do this with gusto, and also repair and modify their own equipment. This is a privilege well worth the effort to gain, and one to be jealously guarded.

The excitement that drives a Radio Ham starts with relatively simple technologies at first, perhaps making his own Wimshurst machine and primary cells. Small pieces of test equipment follow, possibly multimeters and signal generators. Then comes receivers and transmitters. It is with the latter that communication with like-minded technically motivated people takes off. The scope for technical development grows with the years and now encompasses DSP and DDS. There is also a great deal of excitement in the areas of computer programming to be learnt and applied.

The technical excitement motivates Radio Hams to compete with each other to determine who has designed and manufactured the best-quality station. This competitiveness is found in DXing, competitions and fox-hunts.

-----OOOOO----

However, beware! A Ham Radio licence is such a desirable thing to have that there are large numbers of people who wish to be thought of as Radio Hams when, in fact, they are nothing of the kind! Usually such people are a variation of the CB Radio hobbyist; they buy their radios off the shelf and send them back to be repaired; they are not interested in technical discussion and sneer at those who are; they have no idea how their radios work inside and have no wish to find out;
they are free with rather silly personal insults.

These CB types engage in the competitive activities with their Cheque-Book-purchased off-the-shelf radios in a forlorn effort to prove that they are Radio Hams.

No _REAL_ Radio Hams are deceived by such people!

-----ooooo-----

One infallible way to disambiguate the CB Radio Hobbyist from the _REAL_ Radio Ham is to solicit their view of the difference between CB Radio and Ham Radio. A Radio Ham will perceive Ham Radio to be a technical pursuit and will perceive CB Radio to be a social communications facility no different in essence to a land-line telephone or a GSM mobile in the hands of a 6-year-old. Thus a Radio Ham could also hold a CB licence safe in the knowledge that such a licence says no more about him than having a land-line telephone, whilst continuing to regard Ham Radio as a separate technical pursuit.

A CB Radio hobbyist, on the other hand, sees no difference between a Ham Radio licence and a CB Radio licence. To him, they are sisters-under-the-skin. Wrongly, the CB Radio Hobbyist then tries to classify himself as the equal of the Radio Ham when, in fact, he is nothing of the kind.

Ham Radio is not CB Radio and has no common ground with it! Ham Radio is _THE_ technical pursuit for gentlemen; CB Radio is the operating hobby for those who buy their rigs and equipment off the shelf.

-----ooooo-----

If you are the sort of person who is motivated by a technical interest in how things work; if you took apart malfunctioning clocks, toasters and the like and put them right despite never having seen them working, then a Ham Radio licence is your traditional route! There has never been a shortage of such people, and those who gravitate towards such an interest have always been welcomed into our shacks and their interests fostered. There is not today, nor has there ever been, a need to go out and encourage and press children, children who have never expressed an interest in Ham Radio, to come into our shacks. Such an activity should cause eyebrows to be raised - what normal well-adjusted adults seek the social acquaintance of children?!

-----ooooo-----

Please remember that this FAQ is a _POSITIVE EXHORTATION_ to you to exert yourselves to join our fraternity! (If you find otherwise, then perhaps you are already classing yourself in the mediocre groups of those who are criticised in the FAQ and from whom we _MUST_ dissociate? If so - it's never too late for a re-taxonomisation on your part - there's nothing elitist about us, and we welcome all those who are prepared to put themselves out in order to join our ranks!)

Stevie claims he wants no contact with me (but why then he contiue to send me threatening email?)

but claims to faer contracting an STD from me

First I don't have one but that is beside the point

two he has to have contact with me to get one if I did

no he does not

he sees things as different when it is on the other foot that is normal to some extent it is the very diffintion of phychopath when taken far enough on the spectrum it seems clear stvei is close the phco end of the

of course only a pro can tell for sure where stevie lies on the scale

" they are many parts of the rules that should be scraped "

Let's say I agree with you, Part 97 needs some work... That still doesn't give you the authority to scrap the parts you don't like or agree with and operate how ever you choose. The same rules that give you authority to operate have to be followed as they are or you risk getting caught and fined. You don't get the rules changed by breaking them, you get in trouble.

The problem with your argument here is that there is a perscribed way of addressing the problems in Part 97 and getting the rules changed. File the request with the FCC, let your voice be heard. If that's not good enough, or you think the FCC is ignoring you for no good reason, then you should call your local members of congress and complain. Make it an election issue, lobby etc until the issue gets resolved. You simply don't have the right to break the law before you have exausted all your other avenues of getting it changed.

Don't give me this sob story of how unfair and bad the FCC is because they fine somebody for breaking the rules, even if you don't agree the rules are fair. If you choose to break the law, you had better be willing to pay the fines perscribed for doing so. After all, the very set of rules you claim to be unconstitutional also grant you the privilage to operate, perscribe fines for those who break them and limit the types and content of your communications when using the privilages they give you.

So.. I won't accept a boo-hoo about Baxter being fined, nor will I accept that the fines are unfair if he broke the rules. If you want to get the rules changed so what Baxter did becomes OK, it is your right to try through the legal means available to you. But let there be no mistake; you are bound by the rules of part 97 when you sign your license and don't have authority to oeprate until you have signed it. IF you break them and get caught you should be ready to take the punishment without crying about how unfair things are.

Dam little bitchwhores and their Nazi list is now gone. Here what they wrote.

"Todd Daugherty (N9OGL) of Taylorville, Illinois. Daugherty is a self-acknowledged Pirate. He is known for abusive diatribes, replete with poor spelling, atrocious syntax, and the use of foul language and homo-erotic epithets. Daugherty spends a great deal of time drawing uninformed parallels between W1AW and K1MAN. Daugherty has referred to the ARRL as the "ASSHOLE RADIO RELAY LEAGUE (ARRL)," to Riley Hollingsworth as that "little bitchwhore/anti-free speecher," and to the FCC as "those NAZI SCUMBAGS." Commentors on Daugherty's views note that there is little that is either accurate or interesting in Daugherty's analysis." -- http://host.picturewizard.com/2005-7/357648/

So I complain and now they nuked just like people did to me in past. Here what it say now.

you always have the right the right to break the law, what the consequences are are another matter but you always have that right and to state in your trail the law is ilgeal or uncontistitutional you may prevail you might not

3603. the seual attack claim he never makes An Introduction and Refresher On Mark, "I Am A Gay Pagan Draftee Officer" Morgan, KB9RQZ

For those of you just getting to know "Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ" via his spamming and cross-posting of RRAP and other "rec.radio" groups, a little intro is due.

Mark started in here about 8 years ago with his functionally illiterate diatribes, mostly trying to get support for his "waivers" for Morse Code due to alleged neurological deficits, among which he alledges being "dyslexic".

The problem is Morkie tried to get an allergist to write his "waiver" for him. After having claimed an IQ of over 240, one has to wonder on what two fingers he added that up on. It was suggested he see a neurologist, but like every attempt to help him, he told those who suggested it to get ####ed.

On finding out that I was an enlisted retiree from the USMC, Morkie started in on tales of how >>>HE<<< was not only an officer, but a COLONEL in the US Army "chemical corps", and that he was DRAFTED ta-boot!...As if that meant a rat's pack of snot in this forum!

Of course Morkie didn't count on anyone actually being able to do math better than he...You see, based upon his birthday (which was once in QRZ), Morkie would have only been SEVEN years old when the drafted ENDED in the United States...

Anyone seeing a pattern here?

When he was busted with this fact, he then relented and "admitted" that he was "only" a lieutenant, but that his unit CO wouldn't let him resign even though he's an admitted sexual deviate. Of course he's since changed even THAT story, and he now tells a tale of how he was an enlisted clerk in the Army, discharged for emotional problems.

Yeah...Right. A "clerk" who can't even SPELL "clerk"... ! ! ! !

Over the past several years, Morkie has alternatively denied being a mental health patient, then admitted that he's being treated for "anger issues". He's also lied about being in trouble with the law...You see, Markie likes to "care" for his elderly father by taking advantage of him, then skirting the law. It's been a close shave.

Now Morkie's moved from his previous QTH in south-central Illinois to the Michigan Upper Penninsula in order to (A) avoid the aforementioned abuse issues, and to (B) take advantage of more lenient welfare laws that allow him to pork out at home while allowing you and I to "earn" his income for him.

Among his many NG credits are his claims of being stalked, his admission (and only redeeming attribute) that he not only lies, but does so without moral reservation, and that he believes that children should be TAUGHT to lie.

Morkie now "claims" to be married, but can't seem to produce any evidence of it, other than to point to the recent licensure of a female-sounding named person who shares his POB in Chassell, Michigan.

Oh yeah...His "wife"...Allegedly a law clerk or paralegal of some sort, they were allegedly married in Israel. No doubt a green card scam if they are indeed "married". Obviously she doesn't care enough about him to take his name, even to have it hyphenated with hers.

So ...for those of you just tuning in, sit back and enjoy the flailings of Mark C. "I Am A Drafted Gay Pagen Chemical Corps Officer" Morgan.

He never disappoints!

AMERICAN FREEBAND ASSOCIATION DECLARES K1MAN A FREE TW-WAY RADIO GOD

Glenn A. Baxter, P.E., K1MAN, is the one true leader of all free radio operators in the world. If matters not if you are a CB, FRS, MURS, GMRS or even a hammie. Glenn Baxter, P.E., K1MAN, is dedicated to the understanding that all free tw-way operators are created equal and that they are endowed with certain inalienable rights. Among these are those of life, liberty and freedom to use their radio transmitters in any way that they may desire.

Glenn A. Baxter, P.E., K1MAN, is by any definition known to man a true "god of the tw-way" and must be worshiped for whom he is and what he stands for.

Over the years, our true god leader has shown the world of free tw-way radio operators that he takes no crap from anyone. Daily he places his life and fortune on the line so that free tw-way radio operators can say what they want, where they want and to whom they want without fear that the very corrupt Uncle Charlie will take the hammer to them. Even in the face of Uncle Charlie's might Glenn Baxter, P.E., K1MAN, does not yield one single inch. He has no fear of Uncle Charlie and continually taunts them on the tw-way and on his free radio website at www.k1man.com.

When Uncle Charlie the the big number of $21,000 at him and told him to pay up, Glenn A. Baxter, P.E., K1MAN, stood his ground. He spit right in the old mans eye. He then fired up his foot warmer and brought his radio talk back to the ham radio and dared Uncle Charlie to try to stop him. He is there on the 14.275 on the upper side while Uncle Charlie has run away in total fear of the might of the great Glenn A. Baxter, P.E., K1MAN. Only a true "tw-way radio god" could accomplish this and Glenn A. Baxter, P.E., K1MAN.

Brothers and sisters of the tw-way the time to honor this radio god is now. Fall on your knees before his image. Worship his being today. Pledge you soul to him. It is only by his mystic power that you are even permitted to be on the radio in his presence.

All hail the mystical god of the tw-way Glenn A. Baxter, P.E., K1MAN. He is the light that shall guide us all from the dark.

A. Cannaed Hamm, President
American Freeband Association
Veruth Minneosta, 55424

As of 29 March 2006, HA amateurs can start using the 50-52 MHz band on a secondary, non-interference basis as a new frequency allocation plan has appeared in the official journal of the Republic of Hungary. The same government order also opens the 7100-7200 kHz segment of the 40m amateur radio band for Hungarian radio amateurs.

On 6m, the frequency allocation for amateur radio is 50-52MHz, with a power limit of 10W ERP. All known modes occupying less than 12 kHz bandwidth are allowed. There are no restrictions on the design or polarity of antennas, but the 10W ERP limit has to be obeyed.
As the amateur radio band is now contained in the National Frequency Allocation Plan, no separate licences are required, all stations holding a CEPT-equivalent licence are automatically granted access. No mobile operation on 6m is allowed however. The two television transmitters in Hungary remain operational in the band for the time being.

Early access to the 7100-7200 kHz segment of the 40m amateur radio band is also granted for those holding CEPT-equivalent licences, with 150W or 250W of power depending upon the licence class. As this band is under 30MHz, a CW proficiency exam is still necessary.

Hungary is also expecting new amateur radio regulations within a few months that will revise - among other things - the Morse code requirement., callsign allocation and the national licence/exam classes.

I think it only used a lookup table based upon the sunspot numbers. Or it did the math to the same effect. Kind of like what used to be published in QST.

Steve did say that people who shoot off their mouth might have their tires slashed, a brick thrown through their window, or their wife terrorized. Right here on RRAP he said that.

Not much of importance going on here. Hasn't been since '98.

Did you see where Hungary is now allowed on 50 -52mhz?

One-Way Transmissions

Q: What types of one-way communications are amateur stations authorized to transmit?

Section 97.111(b) provides for one-way communications. In summary, auxiliary, beacon, space and stations in distress are specifically authorized to make certain one-way transmissions. Additionally, an amateur station may transmit the following types of one-way communications:
1 Brief transmissions necessary to make adjustments to the station;
2 Brief transmissions necessary for establishing two-way communications with other stations;
3 Telecommand;
4 Transmissions necessary to providing emergency communications;
5 Transmissions necessary to assisting persons learning, or improving proficiency in, the international Morse code;
6 Transmissions necessary to disseminate an information bulletin; and 7 Telemetry.

Q: What is an "information bulletin"?

The term is defined in Section 97.3(b). It is a message directed only to amateur operators and consists solely of subject matter of direct interest to the amateur service. The control operator of the station transmitting an information bulletin is responsible for determining that the subject matter is of direct interest to the amateur service.

Q: Does an amateur station transmitting information bulletins have to share the channel?

Yes. Section 97.101 provides that each station licensee and each control operator must cooperate in selecting transmitting channels and in making the most effective use of the amateur service frequencies. A specific transmitting channel is not assigned for the exclusive use of any amateur station. Section 97.101 also provides that no amateur operator shall cause interference to any radio communication or signal. There is no exemption for amateur stations transmitting for information bulletins.

Q: Is broadcasting prohibited?

Yes. Section 97.113 prohibits amateur stations from engaging in any form of broadcasting or in any activity related to program production or news gathering for broadcasting purposes.

Q: Is there an exception to this prohibition?

Yes, there is one exception: Communications directly related to the immediate safety of human life or the protection of property may be provided by amateur stations to broadcasters for dissemination to the public where no other means of communication is reasonably available before or at the time of the event.

Q: What is "broadcasting"?

Section 97.3 defines the term "broadcasting," in the context of the amateur service, as a transmission intended for reception by the general public, either direct or delayed.

That's exactly what your CO told you to do, huh, sodomite?
When addressing Sodomites, Woger knows all too well how that accusation works.
Woger, it seems, is well-versed when the topic of Sodomy arises.

Woger, so it goes, is no stranger to Sodomy and has often been the object of boy/men investigations via his local police department.
Woger claims that the local Glendale PD "has nothing on me" but he is not being truthful. Fact is that the Glendale Police Department (and others) have a dossier on Woger.
Woger is not well thought of in his small GlenDale community and one of the Sgts. is of the opinion that Woger harbors anger that could manifest itself to the point of hurting small children.

Woger is not stable. He is a Social Misfit and as such should be considered a threat to the area kids.

For those of you just getting to know "Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ" via his spamming and cross-posting of RRAP and other "rec.radio" groups, a little intro is due.

Mark started in here about 8 years ago with his functionally illiterate diatribes, mostly trying to get support for his "waivers" for Morse Code due to alleged neurological deficits, among which he alledges being "dyslexic".

The problem is Morkie tried to get an allergist to write his "waiver" for him. After having claimed an IQ of over 240, one has to wonder on what two fingers he added that up on. It was suggested he see a neurologist, but like every attempt to help him, he told those who suggested it to get ####ed.

On finding out that I was an enlisted retiree from the USMC, Morkie started in on tales of how >>>HE<<< was not only an officer, but a COLONEL in the US Army "chemical corps", and that he was DRAFTED ta-boot!...As if that meant a rat's pack of snot in this forum!

Of course Morkie didn't count on anyone actually being able to do math better than he...You see, based upon his birthday (which was once in QRZ), Morkie would have only been SEVEN years old when the drafted ENDED in the United States...

Anyone seeing a pattern here?

When he was busted with this fact, he then relented and "admitted" that he was "only" a lieutenant, but that his unit CO wouldn't let him resign even though he's an admitted sexual deviate. Of course he's since changed even THAT story, and he now tells a tale of how he was an enlisted clerk in the Army, discharged for emotional problems.

Yeah...Right. A "clerk" who can't even SPELL "clerk"... ! ! ! !

Over the past several years, Morkie has alternatively denied being a mental health patient, then admitted that he's being treated for "anger issues". He's also lied about being in trouble with the law...You see, Markie likes to "care" for his elderly father by taking advantage of him, then skirting the law. It's been a close shave.

Now Morkie's moved from his previous QTH in south-central Illinois to the Michigan Upper Penninsula in order to (A) avoid the aforementioned abuse issues, and to (B) take advantage of more lenient welfare laws that allow him to pork out at home while allowing you and I to "earn" his income for him.

Among his many NG credits are his claims of being stalked, his admission (and only redeeming attribute) that he not only lies, but does so without moral reservation, and that he believes that children should be TAUGHT to lie.

Morkie now "claims" to be married, but can't seem to produce any evidence of it, other than to point to the recent licensure of a female-sounding named person who shares his POB in Chassell, Michigan.

Oh yeah...His "wife"...Allegedly a law clerk or paralegal of some sort, they were allegedly married in Israel. No doubt a green card scam if they are indeed "married". Obviously she doesn't care enough about him to take his name, even to have it hyphenated with hers.

So ...for those of you just tuning in, sit back and enjoy the flailings of Mark C. "I Am A Drafted Gay Pagen Chemical Corps Officer" Morgan.

He never disappoints!

I never said they were "going to 'comit' (you) on (my) say sO"

YOU did. I said I was filing a report. I did.

The shortness of the list of responses is good and would seem to suggest that the Nugatory Numpties have at long last desisted from their rather silly and infantile tirades and that the field is left open for _REAL_ Radio Hams to congregate here once again.

Loads of BS snipped....

I see you are also short on responses to this list of questions that were asked of you earlier today. Care to answer them or are you going to be a hypocrite all your life?

And your answers are? Simple "yes" or "no" answers (sound familiar?) will be fine, except for the last one where a simple figure will suffice. Or are you going to run away with your tail between you legs like you accuse Brian of doing?
